Western Hills High School

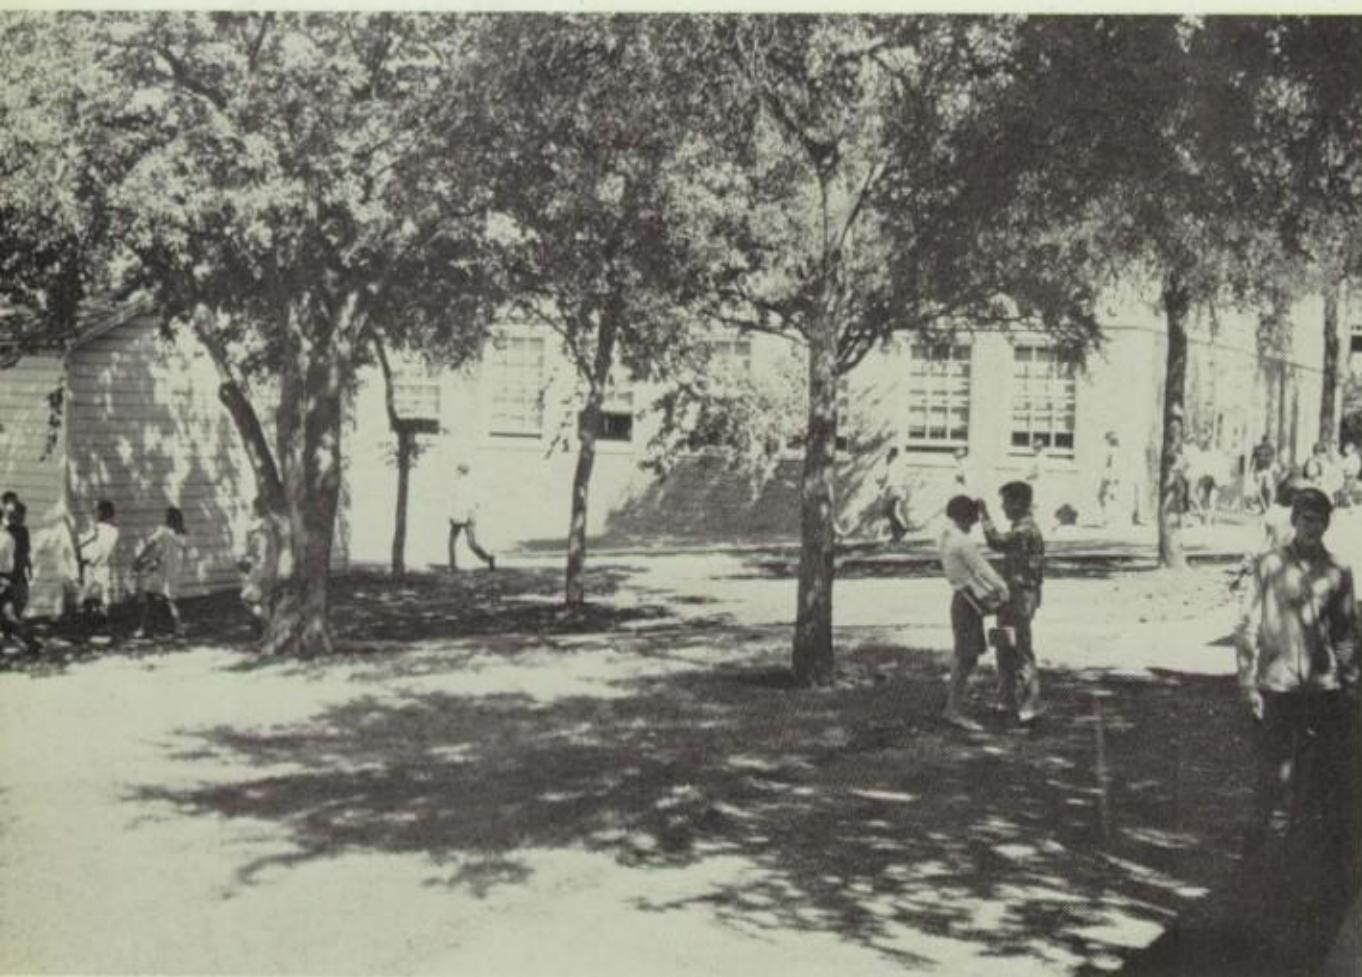

Fort Worth, Texas

Volume I

We at Western Hills High School have taken for our mascot the fierce and free cougar, an animal worthy of the vitality and eagerness which our student body possesses.

The annual staff felt that the title of this yearbook should carry these characteristics, and so, we have entitled your book Catamount, a Spanish derivative meaning mountain lion-cougar.

Student Life . . . 94

For numerous westside Fort Worth teenagers, 1968 had a new beginning in the opening of Western Hills High School. The student body moved into temporary buildings on the Arlington Heights High School campus in September and throughout the fall students and teachers eagerly awaited the news that the new school was completed. Finally at mid-semester, the big move came. Teachers packed, athletes assembled furniture and trucks came and went. On January 28th there were few absentees as anxious students swarmed into the handsome, new facility.

It is this new beginning and its meanings and purpose that the Catamount staff, has tried to capture in this, its first volume.

During the first semester the students of Western Hills experienced a wide variety of feelings. There were old friends that no one wanted to leave, but everyone longed to exchange the temporary classrooms at Arlington Heights for their own modern building.

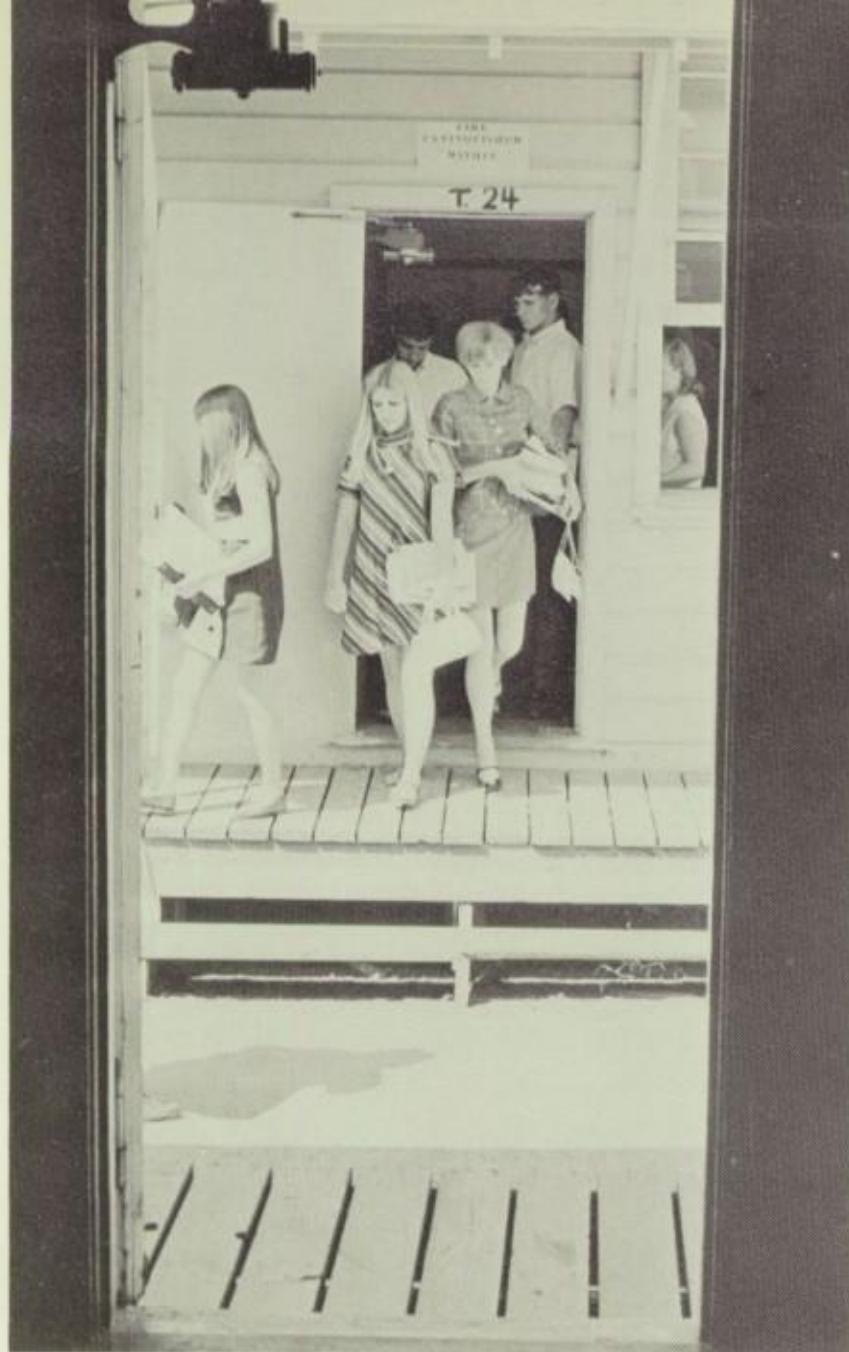

The dual campus caused inconveniences for both of the student bodies, the greatest of these being the overcrowded conditions. Arlington Heights students were forced to share numerous facilities, including the cafeteria. Inclement weather meant using raincoats and umbrellas to change classes for Western Hills students.

Of course the semester wasn't lacking in ordinary school events. Teachers found time to teach and students attempted the learning process, some with success, others without. There were pep rallies and football games, dances, Christmas, and friendships.

Occasionally, moments of doubt crept in between the fun times and students and teachers wondered if the new building would ever be completed.

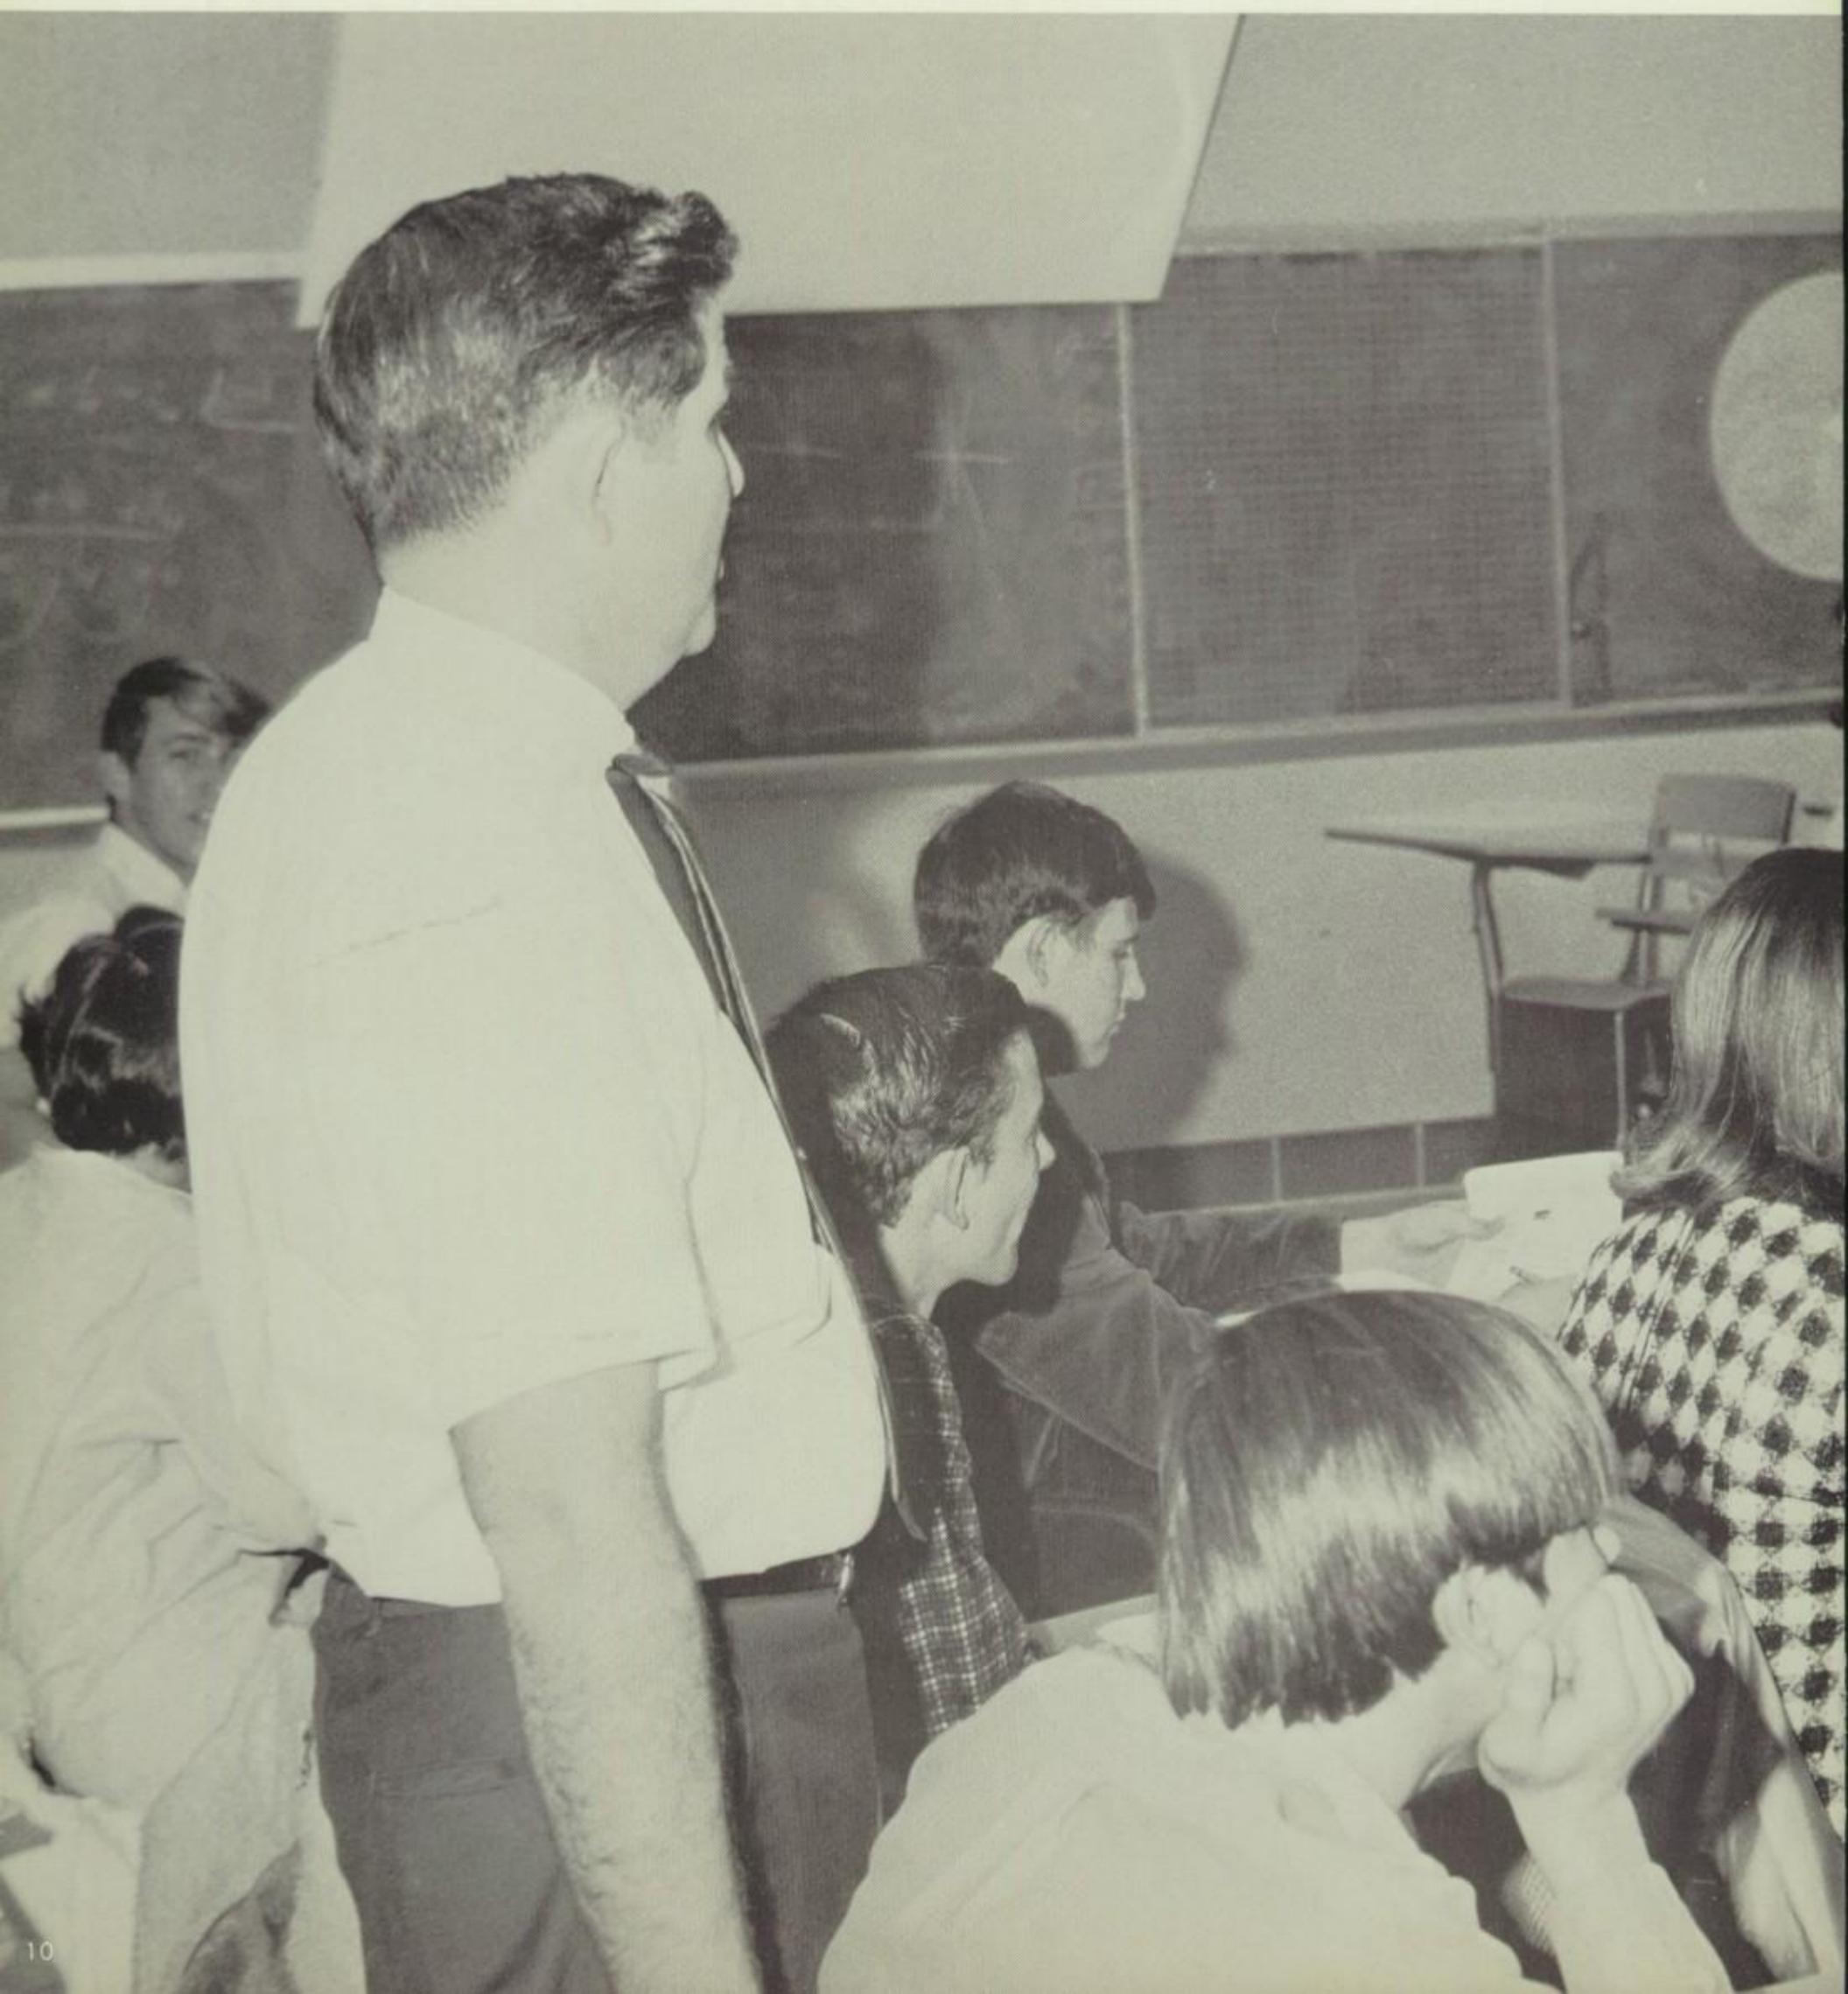

The end of January instilled a new energy into the entire school — tests were over and construction on the Western Hills High School building had been completed. Before school was dismissed for the mid-semester break, equipment and supplies were packed, lockers were emptied, and farewells were said. Students spent the weekend helping teachers move.

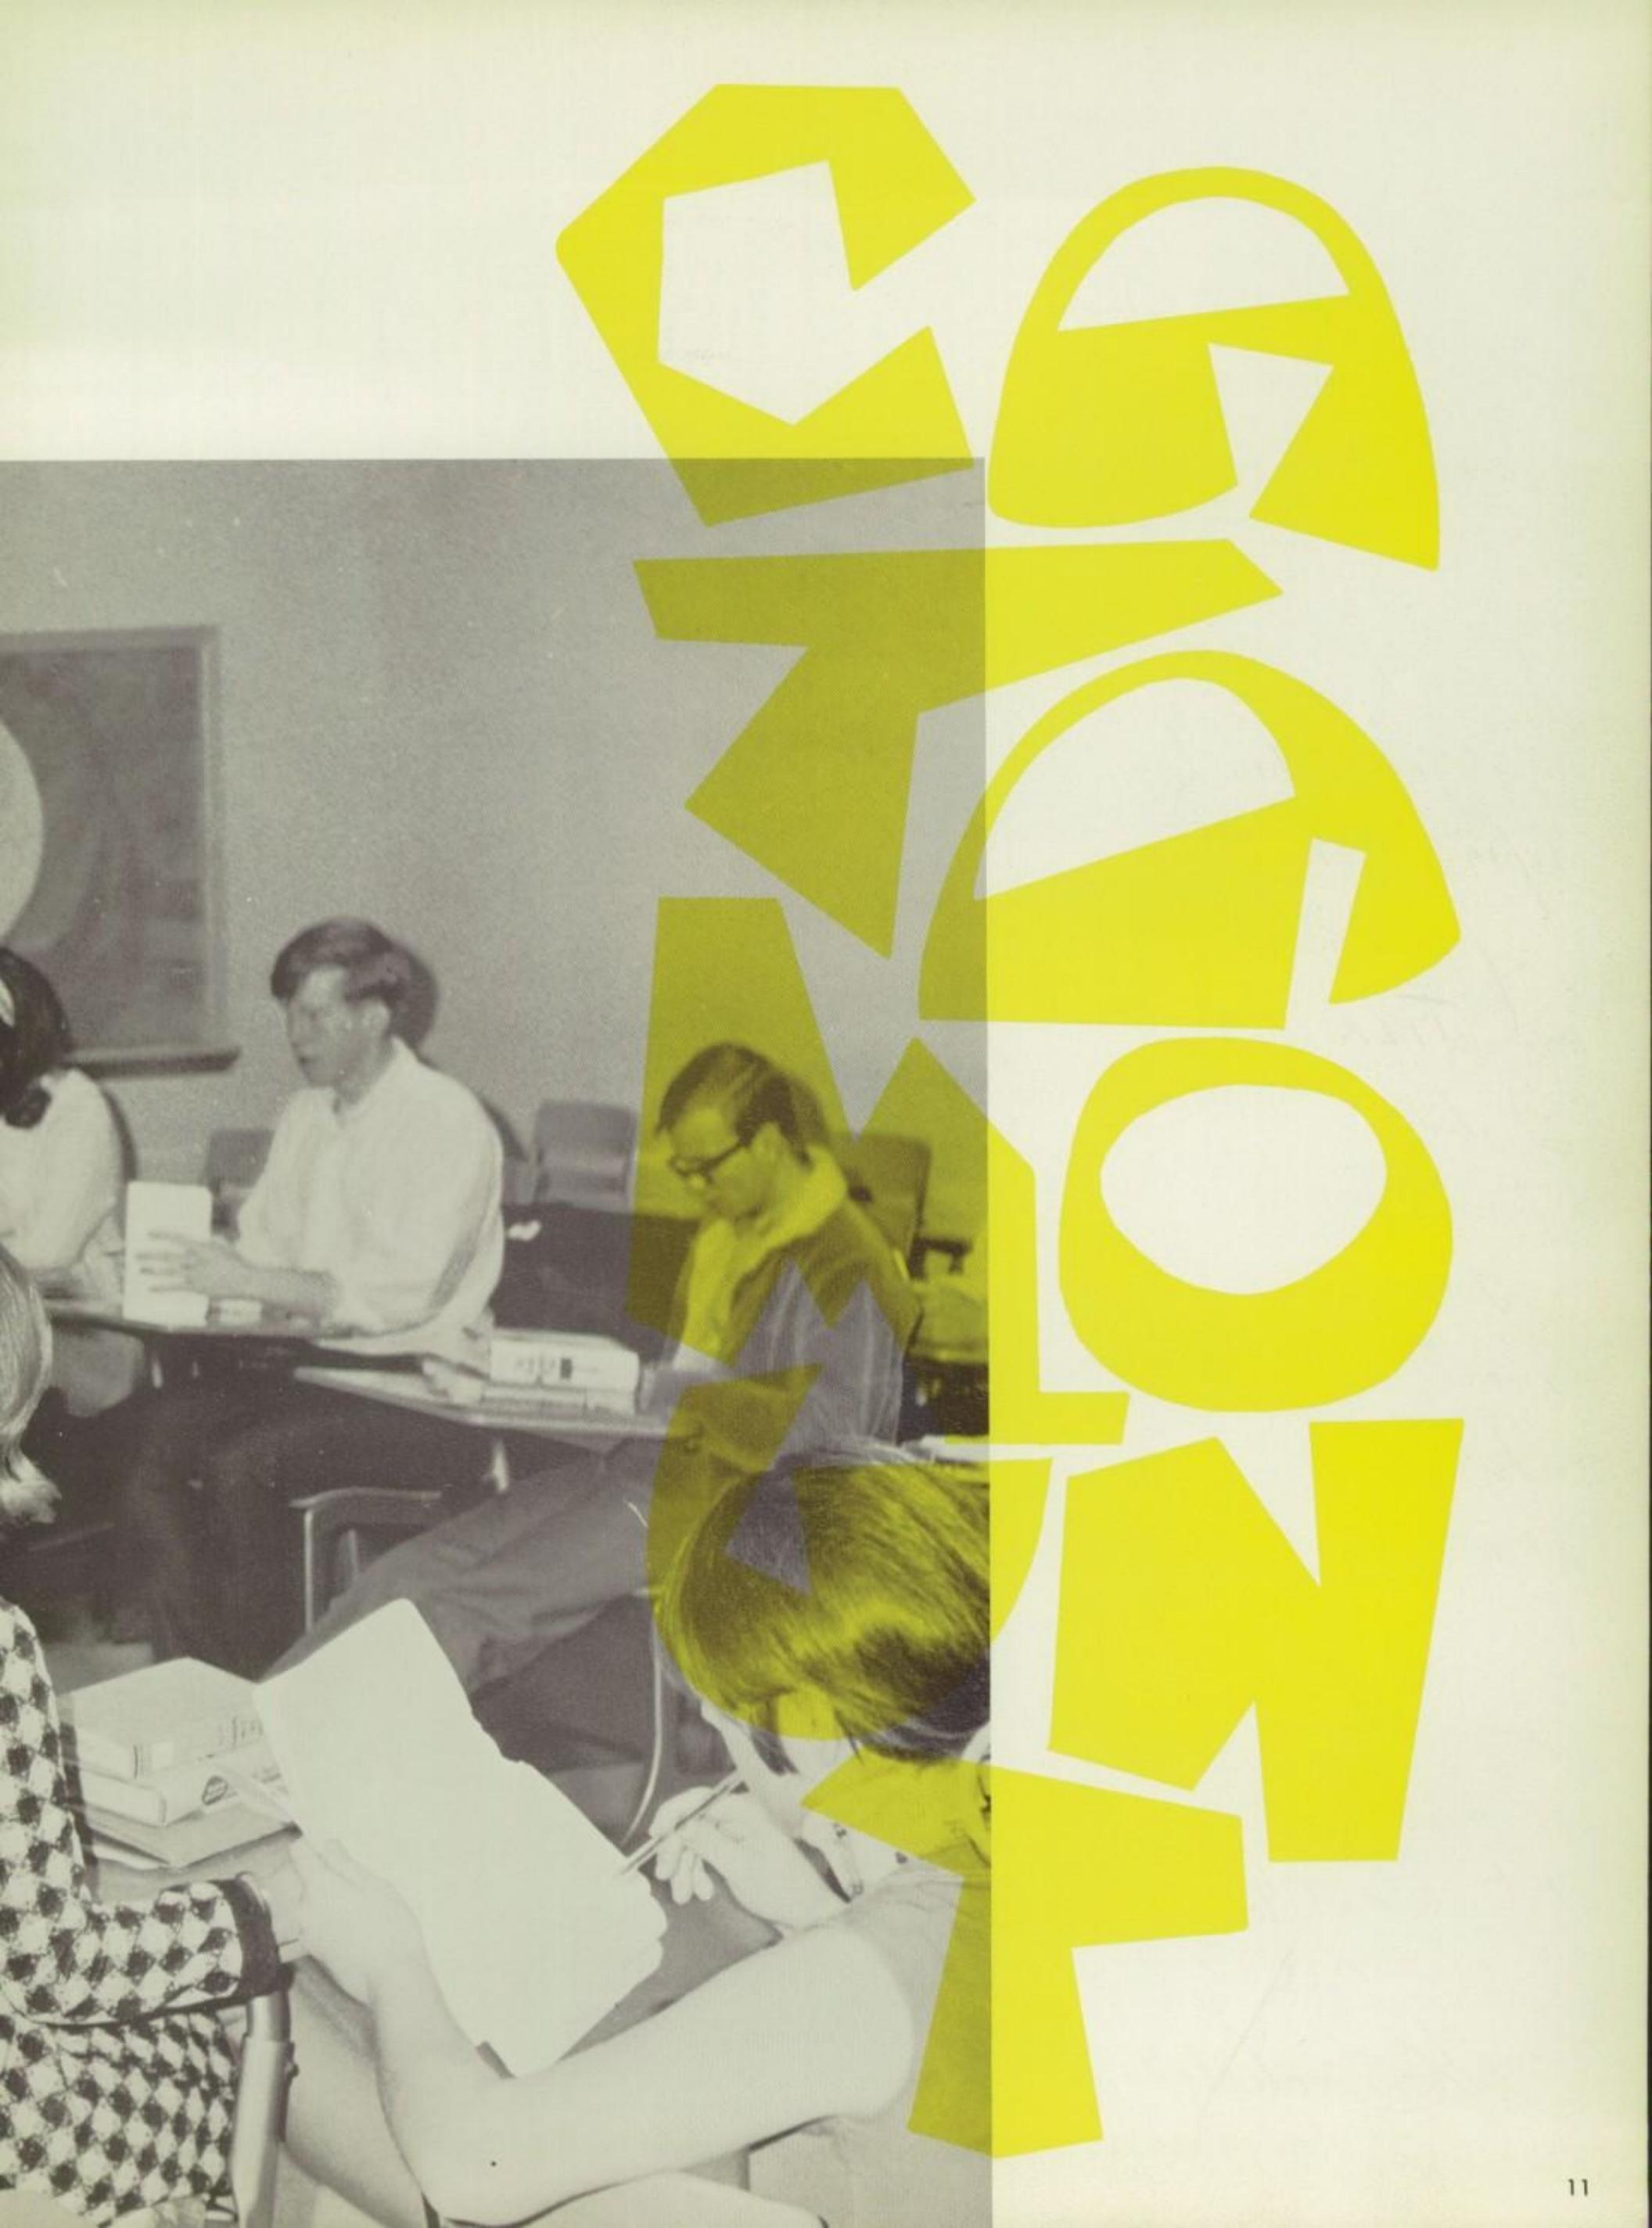

On Tuesday morning, January 28th, Mr. Morrow addressed an excited student body for the first time in the new auditorium! The school was quickly surveyed and approved by the few who had not already done so. Everyone was impressed with the modernness of the building which boasted brightly colored vinyl walls, dropped ceilings and the most up-to-date equipment.

Departments and Faculty

Vision of Modern Education:

Under the direction of the Fort Worth School Board, the Fort Worth Public Schools began the year with plans and adaptations of new and progressive educational methods. Three new members, Mr. Trimble, Mr. Bruner, and Mr. Harris, joined the rest of the board in realizing that traditional ways were not necessarily best and change was inevitable. New administrative offices were created this year under Superintendent of Schools, Julius Truelson, and a computerized grading and program selection system was instigated.

Julius Truelson, Superintendent of Schools

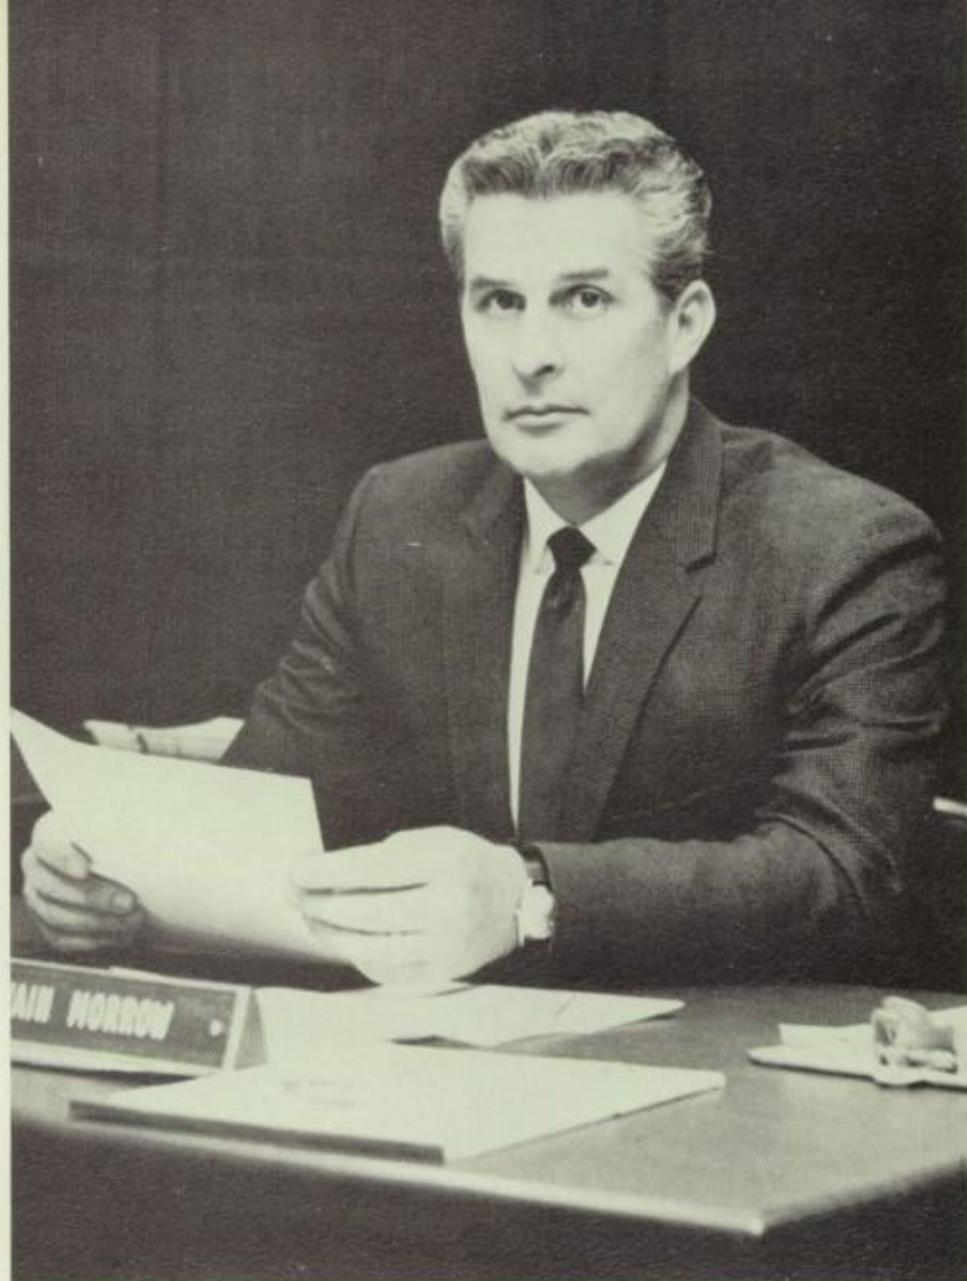

James M. Bailey
Superintendent of Instruction

Eli Douglas
Superintendent of Administration

Mrs. Frances Alles, B.A., M.A., Vice Principal

W. Twain Morrow, B.S., M.Ed., Principal

Nick Ruggeri, B.A., M.A., Vice Principal

Western Hills, A Realization

Personified in new educational plans and programs was the opening of Western Hills under the direction of Mr. Twain Morrow, Principal, with Mr. Nick Ruggeri and Mrs. Frances Alles, Vice Principals. Mr. Morrow began a smooth, but inconvenient year on the Arlington Heights campus and transferred to the new school at mid-term. Our administrators proved to be capable and personable in running the school and were always willing to help with personal problems.

Faculty hears reports from the administration building, and explanation of new methods and materials.

Research Center and Computerized Programming New Educational Advances

In the new W.H.H.S. building students gained use of their own "research center" with Mrs. Peggy Herring as director. While at Heights students shared that school's library services. The research center, in title, reflects the change in high schools to a more college-gearred scheduling and atmosphere. Recordings and audiovisual aids were made available to pupils along with the usual books and periodicals long associated with libraries.

The counseling office, with Mrs. Ann Bradley as head counselor and Mr. Merlin Brockett as assistant, advised students on subject selection and assisted students in college and university choices. They also checked programs for required credits and prepared the necessary material for the computer. Many catalogues and bulletins were made available, and students could receive help and advice on appointment. During the year different aptitude and achievement tests were scheduled for checking pupil goals and interests.

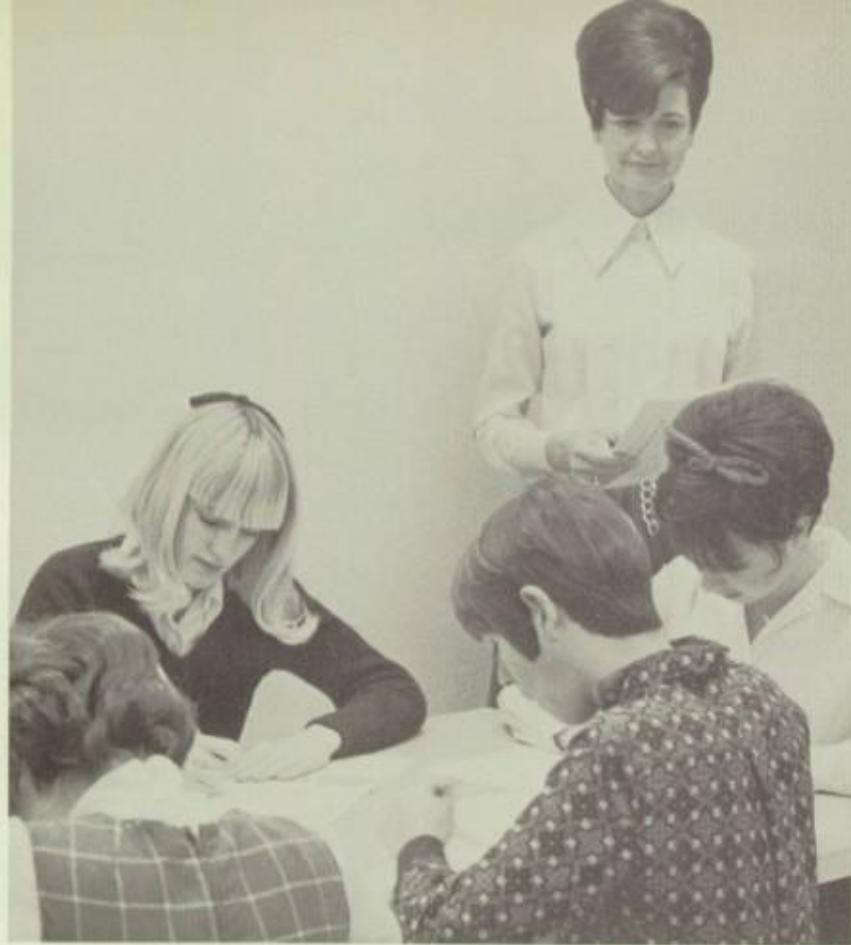

Mrs. Ann Bradley, B.S., M.E., Counselor.

Mrs. Peggy Herring, B.A., M.A., Librarian; Sponsor, Library Club.

Mrs. Bradley gives the National Merit Scholarship tests.

Mrs. Tommie Dodrill, Registrar.

New Building Features Large Offices and Service Facilities

Located in the very heart of the new Western Hills building was the office complex with its administrative and service offices. Large and comfortable, these offices provided work and record area for Western Hills registrar, Mrs. Tommie Dodrill, the attendance clerk, Mrs. Hazel Craig, the health center under Mrs. Norma Atwood's direction, the counseling area, and the book room. A large multi-purpose room near the main school entrance was used for study halls, faculty meetings, driver's education classes and other large class groups.

Mrs. Hazel Craig, Attendance Clerk.

Mrs. Norma Atwood, R. N., Nurse.

Merlin Brockett, B.S., M.A., English, Assistant Counselor, Coach of Tennis Team.

Mrs. Francis J. Wray, B.S., Latin, English. Sponsored the Newsletter, AY, Latin Club.

and TALK, but I have news for you!!
Life is made for sp and also the young at heart!
so always keep young at heart like you are!
Mr. Dockett

First Year English Teachers Found in Many Fields

Our English teachers this year also taught the foreign languages, art, and assisted the counselor. Senior English emphasized the English authors and their works. Macbeth and the Canterbury Tales were studied in detail. Juniors studied the eras and styles of American literature, writing research papers during the second semester.

Meanwhile, Sophomores read Shakespeare's Julius Caesar and the English novel, Silas Marner.

Speech students developed self-confidence as they practiced public speaking and the more specialized areas of drama. Job interviews, group discussions, reporting, and persuasive speaking were covered first. Later theatrical readings, pantomimes, and acting were part of the curriculum.

Rita New practices persuasive speaking during second period speech class.

Mr. Brockett's Jr. English class holds a discussion of inventions and their relation to American Literature.

Karen Shearheart gives an illustrated report on Stirling Moss, race car driver of the early 1950's.

Paula J.
Senior English students comment on romantic poetry.

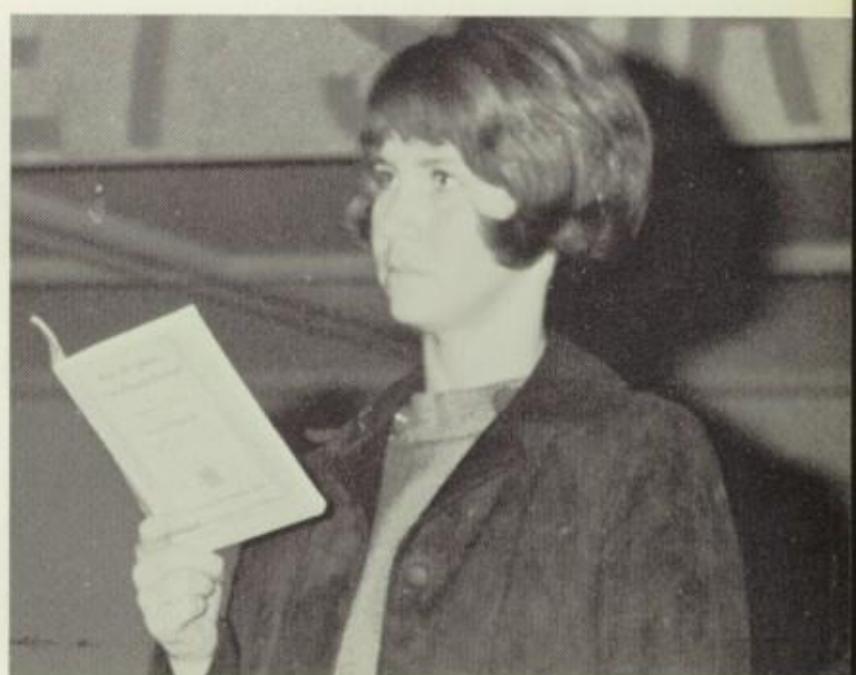

Mrs. Clarice Whiteker, B.A.; Speech, Drama, English. Sponsored the Drama and Debate Clubs, 2nd semester.

"There's a right way and a wrong way to slap a boy," coaches Mrs. Whiteker to Derenda Wakefield and Danny Smith.

Mrs. Winifred Elliott, B.A., M.A.; English.

Mrs. Margaret Haley, B.A.; Speech, Drama, English. Sponsored the Drama and Debate Clubs, 1st semester.

Harvey E. Glasgow, B.A., M.A.; German, English, Golf Coach.

First year German students modify dialogue. (Keinen dumkophs!)

Students show Spanish transparencies.

Foreign Languages Earn Emphasis

Though Western Hills was a new school, four foreign languages were offered to students this year. The Audio-Lingual method was used in teaching first and second year German, French, and Spanish. Often, second year students wrote their own dialogues and acted them out, while first year students learned the basic fundamentals using toy clocks and other simple objects. Spanish was the only language offering third year material this first year. Its students read modern Mexican literature. Latin began a course of study corresponding with the A-LM. Learning how Latin influences modern life, and studying the humane aspects of Roman history and culture were Latin goals.

Mrs. Carol Hernandez, B.A.; French, English, Senior Sponsor, Handbook.

Miss Carolyn Christopher, B.A., M.Ed.; Spanish, English. Sponsored Spanish Club, Student Council.

Hablemos español!

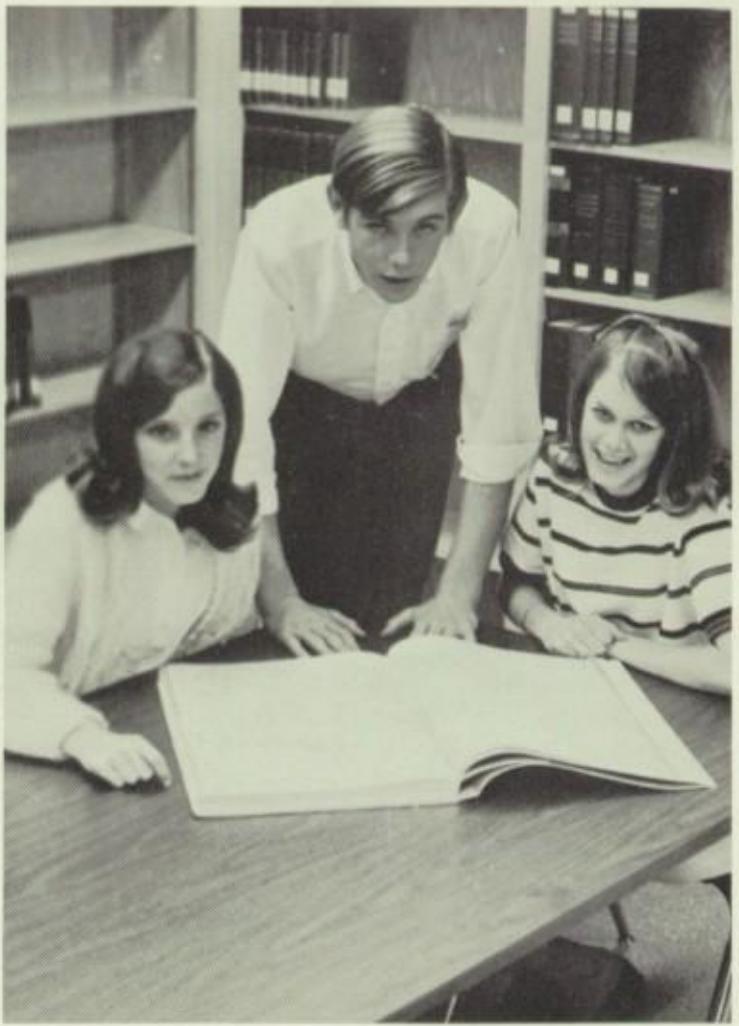

Latin students look at the many projects Mrs. Wray has collected during the years she has taught.

Best wishes to Paul you are a very good student and study well sometimes
Am. that's all love
John

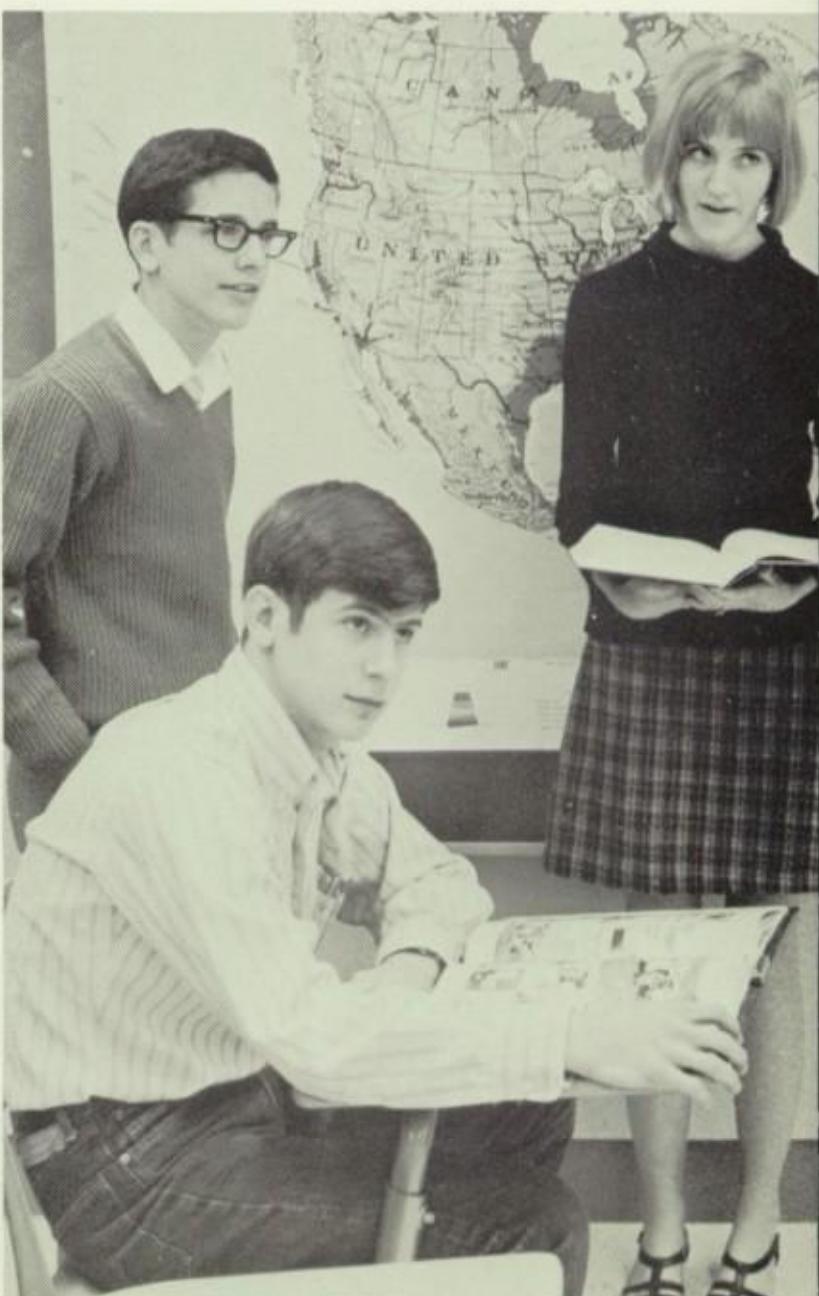

W. Byron Cole, B.S.; American History.

Mrs. Marjorie Buhl, B.A.; World History.

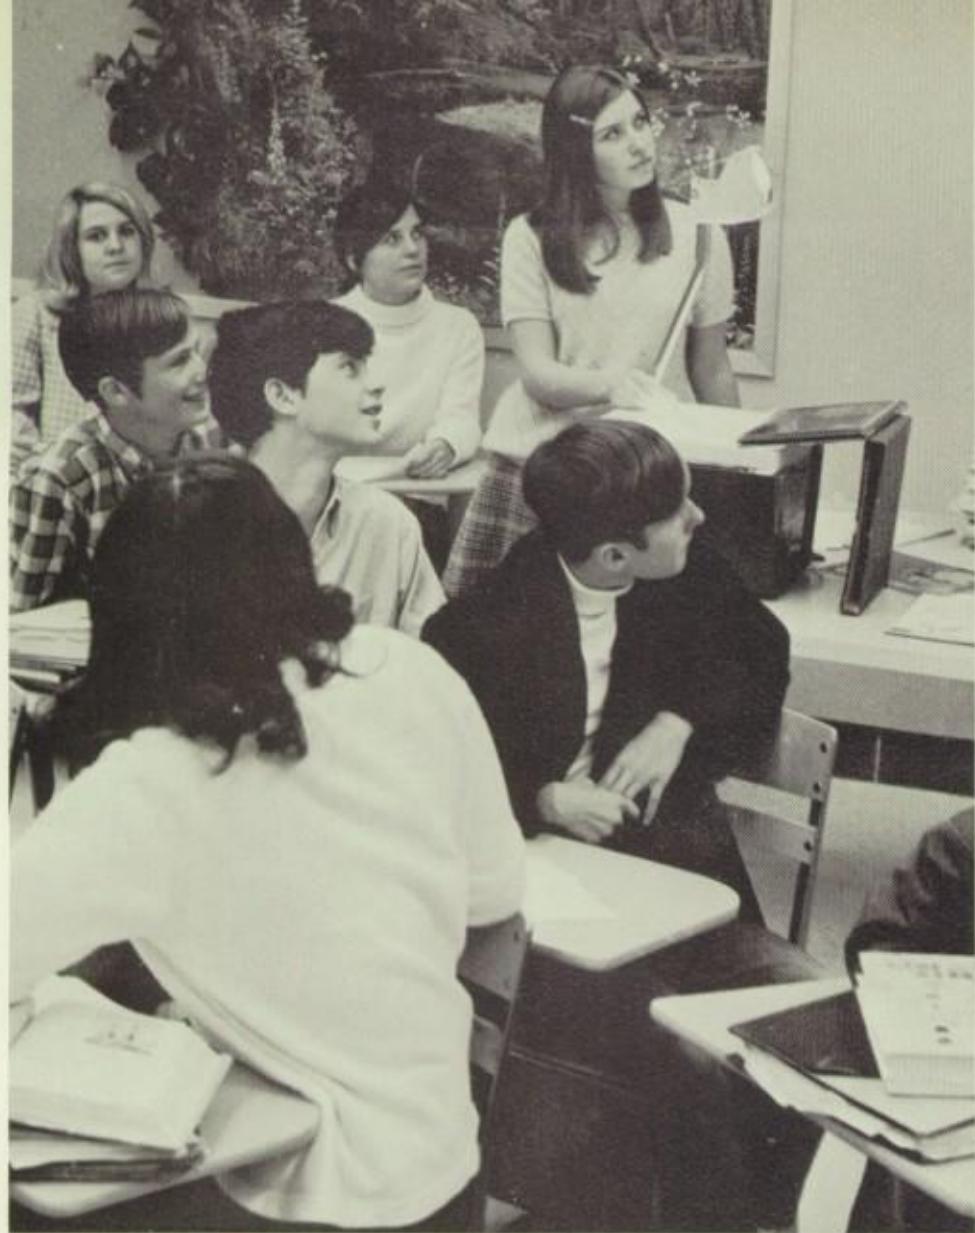

Kathy Clark, Jeff Kruse, and Cindy Buckalew were a few of the many history students who used the library for research.

American history was found to interest many Juniors, among who are David Shannon, Randy Kopplin, and Carol Bock.

Viewing a bulletin board of political posters and pamphlets are Marlene Presley, Kathy Long, Robert Erickson, Elizabeth Martin and Wayne Beverly.

World History students view transparencies as important features are pointed out.

Ronnie McLain, B.S.; History, Coach, Baseball.

History in the Making Provided by Presidential Campaign

1968 provided History and Government classes with several unique opportunities in learning since it was national election year. All three major candidates, Nixon, Humphrey, and Wallace, had rallies in downtown Ft. Worth and many students attended and some became involved in their favorite's campaign. Seeing history being made as well as studying past events gave students an understanding of their country and world. Both American and World History gained a glimpse into the future since men have usually reacted to circumstances in the same manner.

Dale Walker, B.S.; History, Head Football Coach.

Mrs. Buhl conducts discussion with her 3rd period World History class.

Danny Lee, B.S.E.; World History, Coach Football, Track.

Buddy Davis, B.S., M.Ed.; Government, History, Coach, Basketball.

Participating in a panel discussion are Jim McKay, Jackie Blackmon, Sue Roark, and Judy Meyer.

Democracy in Action Studied

A detailed and critical view of democracy at work was experienced by Mr. Davis' government class this year. Both local and national politics came under investigation and the U. S. Constitution was particularly stressed. Part of graduation requirements, government was due to expand in 1969-70 with possible courses in government 2.

Jerry E. Jones, B.A.; Band, Chorus, Orchestra.

Art students Barbara Hunt and Sheryl Rasberry finish still-life drawings.

New Facilities Provide Room for Creative Expression

Creative expression and a study of visual arts were goals of Western Hills Art Department which is under the direction of Mr. Ed Curry. Beginning in a regular classroom at Arlington Heights, classes were limited to pencil and ink drawings during the first semester. When the big move came, art students found a large art room available with ample storage and working space. General art students explored prints and the three dimension world, while advanced students became more skilled in their chosen art field. The department participated in the Ft. Worth High School Exhibit held in April at the Ft. Worth National Bank.

Ed T. Curry, B.A., M.A.; Art, English, Sponsor, CATAMOUNT.

A Diversified Music Department Organized in First Year

Musical activities at Western Hills assumed a special importance with the organization of four bands, an orchestra and a chorus — all under the direction of Mr. Jerry Jones. Early in the year the marching band was found on the Heights' campus practicing their drills and this group performed at games and pep rallies to set a precedent for other first year high school bands.

A large chorus group developed their singing technique and set the ground work for future musical performances and shows.

The orchestra was quite small this year but provided a nucleus for next year's participation in all-city high school musical activities.

Marty Montgomery and Charlene Wright accompany Chorus rehearsal of a popular tune as Linda Bolin supervises.

Mike Richardson, B.S.; Related Math, Geometry, Coach, Track.

Ed Kahler, B.S., M.Ed.; Algebra, Trig.

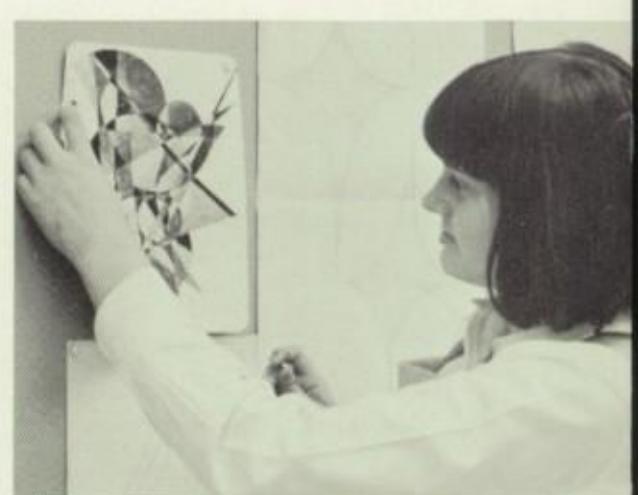

Projects Add Interest to Math

Hypothesis, hyperbola, cosine, congruent, equation, ellipse . . . These words may sound alien, but if anyone participated in one of the four courses offered by the math department this year they would have been part of their every-day language. The Western Hills curriculum included, in addition to regular activities, a required math project. Teachers made use of overhead projectors and math kits to make classes more interesting. Next year the math curriculum was projected to include Elementary Analysis, Algebra 1-2 and Consumer Math.

Carla Houx questions Mr. Kahler about an algebra formula.

Dana Foreman tacks her math project to Mrs. Coon's bulletin board.

Mrs. Mary Barron, B.S.E.; Related Math, Geometry.

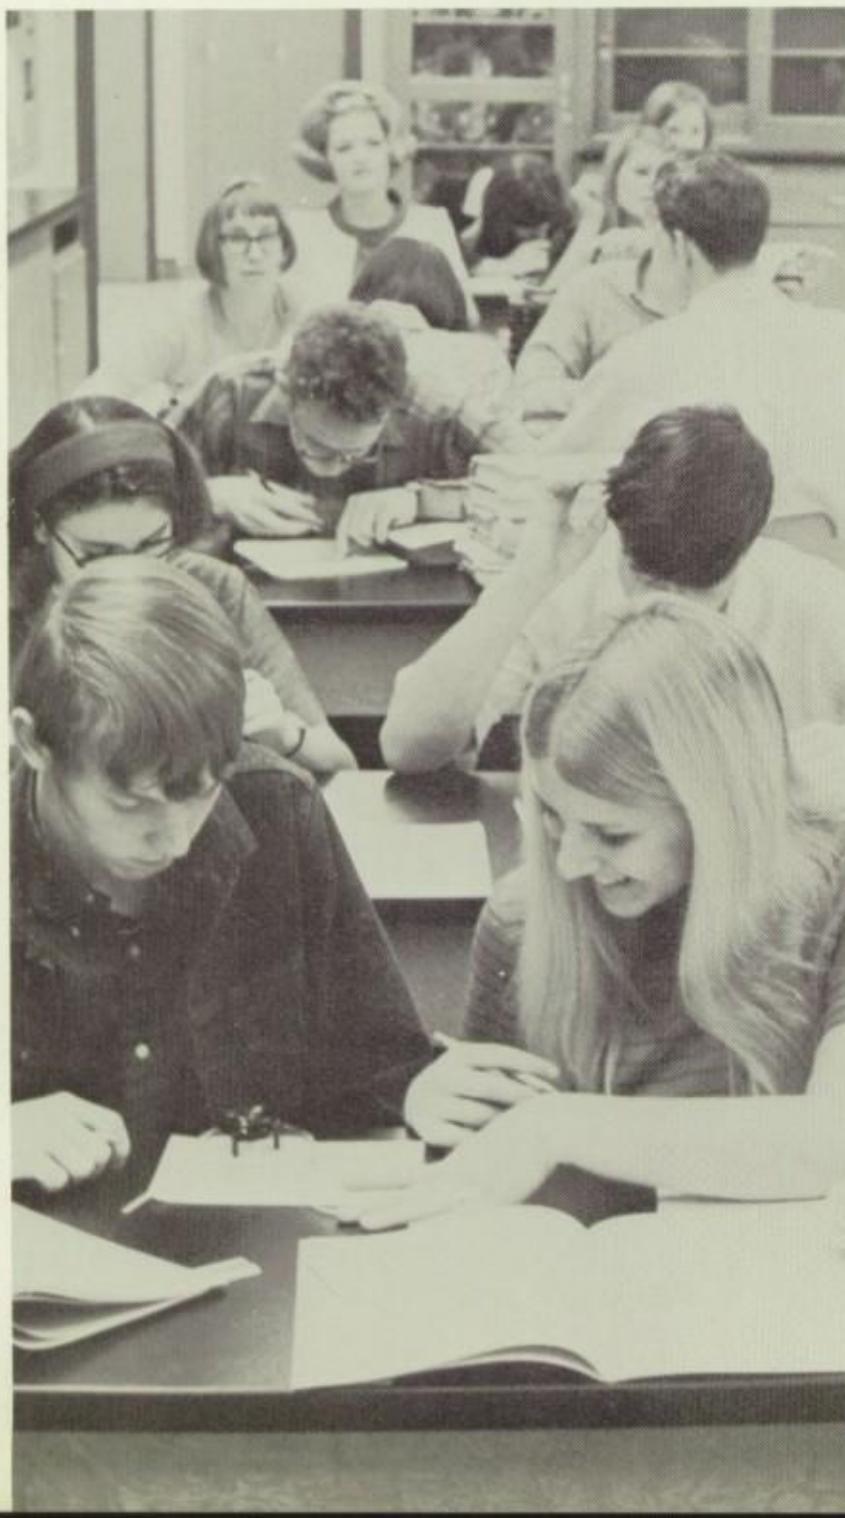

Mrs. Clark, student teacher under Mrs. Barron, instructs a geometry class with the overhead projector.

Mrs. Francis Coon, B.A., M.Ed.; Related Math, Geometry.

Combined Lab and Classroom New Feature in Science

From atoms to protists was the menu for science students at Western Hills this year. Mrs. Ruth Amend and Mrs. Sharon Bullis taught Biology, while Mrs. Mary Shimp conducted classes in Chemistry. During the first semester science classes were hindered by the lack of lab facilities; but after the move to the new building extensive use was made of the lab equipment which included environmental chambers in the biology classes and unique lab units with individual AC-DC current sources in the chemistry class. All of the biology classes went on a field trip to the AEC's Radiation Laboratory which was on temporary exhibition at the Museum of Science and History.

Mrs. Ruth Amend, B.S., M.S.; Biology, Sponsor, Chess Club.

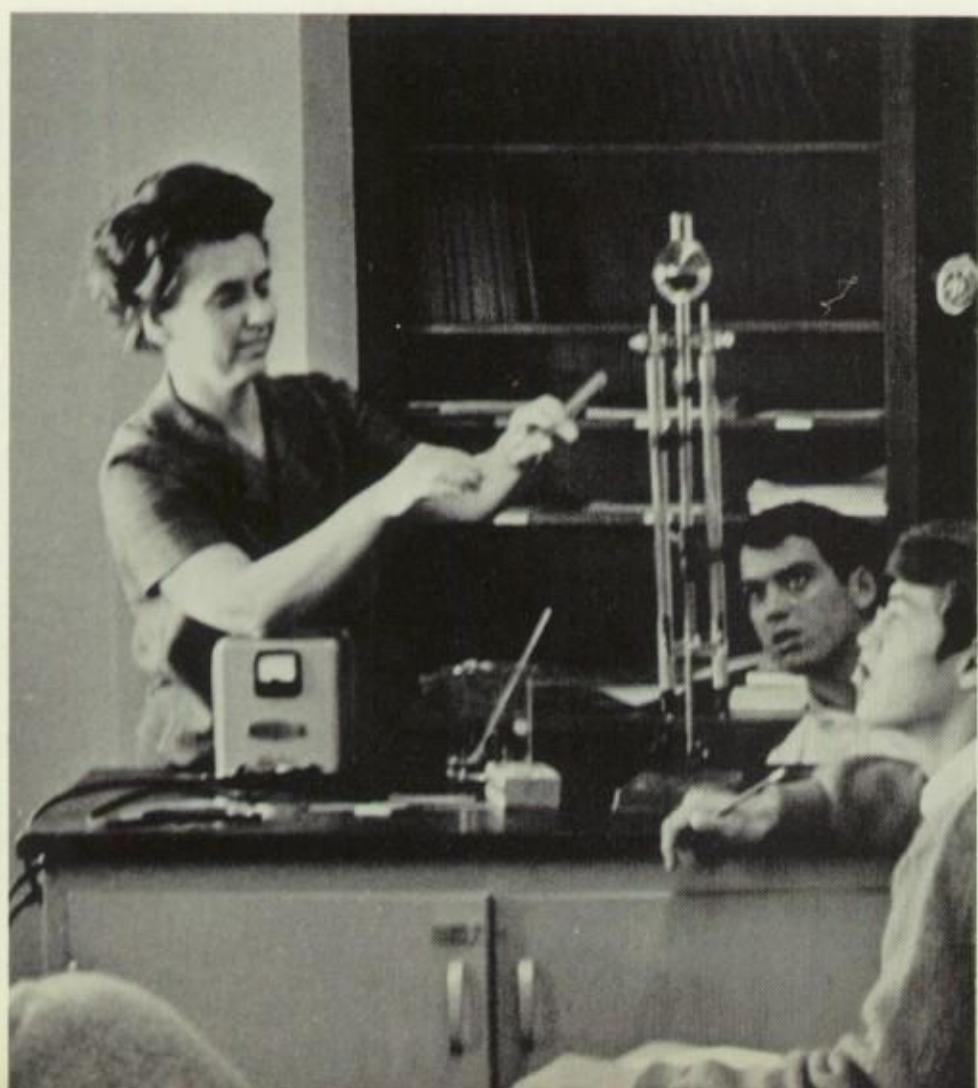

Lee Lacy and Barbara Seegan study planaria through a magnifying glass.

Mrs. Mary Shimp, B.S.; Biology, Chemistry, Co-Sponsor, Cheerleaders, Science Club.

Paul Woods and Randy Kopplin assemble apparatus for a gas collecting experiment.

Mrs. Sharon Bullis, B.S.; Biology, Co-Sponsor, Cheerleaders, Science Club.

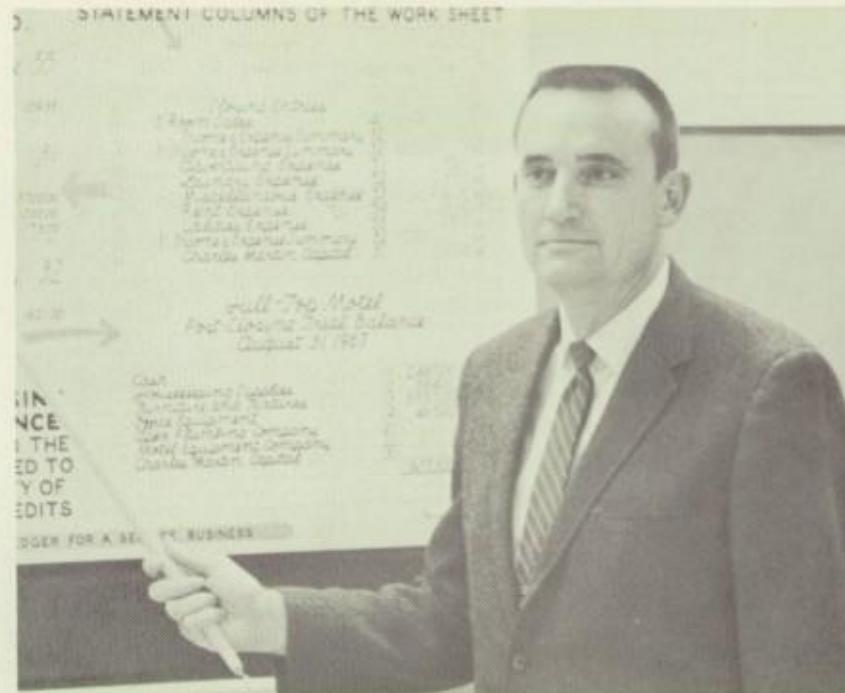

Mrs. Shimp does electrolysis demonstrating for her class while on the Heights campus.

Becky Candler concentrates on her bookkeeping problem.

Mrs. Mary Lynn Foust, B.S.; Typing, Shorthand.

Weldon Moody, B.S., M.Ed., Typing, Bookkeeping, Coach, Basketball.

New Shorthand Lab Top Feature of Business Department

A large typing room, a bookkeeping room, a shorthand lab, a Vocational Office Education room, selectric and executive IBM typewriters, ample cabinet space, and dictaphones and adding machines met pleased Western Hills business students when they moved into the new building in January. The department was especially pleased with the shorthand lab which featured typewriter and headphone and channel selector desks for tape rated dictation. Under the direction of Mrs. Mary Lynn Foust and Mr. Weldon Moody the business department was well prepared to cope with the expanding need of business education in today's complex world. Somewhat limited in course selection this year, the department planned to offer V.O.E. and business law for '69-'70.

Mrs. Foust's sixth period typing class finishes up a speed test.

Industrial Arts

The Industrial Arts were conceived in answer to the problem of educating young persons in understanding and appreciating a world characterized as industrial and technological. At Western Hills, mechanical drawing, wood, metal, and plastic shops were offered and these acted as interest areas for both physical and mental stimuli to students. It was an introduction to tools and processes, but also assisted in forming basic concepts.

William L. Mazy, B.S., M.E.; Wood, Metal, Drafting, Plastics, Mechanics.

Joe Rodgers and Jason Halback look on as Mark Jones thermoforms a Christmas decoration.

Mrs. Elizabeth Tidwell, B.A.; Home and Family Living, Clothing, Foods. Sponsor of Sportsmanship Committee, F.H.A.

Home Economics

Home Economics courses taught the basic methods of housekeeping, and ideas concerning human relationships. The clothing unit included study of color schemes, materials, styling, and construction methods. The food unit not only stressed nutritional values, and preparations, but taught the importance in serving food attractively. Practical nursing, house and home furnishing, personal grooming were discussed and related. The Home and Family Living division dealt in areas of homemaking as related to young marrieds especially. These included money management, child development, prenatal and infant care, and personal relationships.

P.E. Features Variety of Physical Activity

The need for physical fitness in anyone's life never wanes, and boys and girls enrolled in Western Hills Physical Education participated in a variety of sports and physical activity which kept them in top condition during the year. Calisthenics and intramural sports were both part of the P. E. program and the boys used the large Universal Gym weight and tension machine which could be used in a number of ways by nine boys at a time.

Unseasoned Cougars Point Toward Future In First Year

In August of 1968, the first Western Hills football team was formed under the direction of head coach Dale Walker. Forty-five boys, mostly juniors and sophomores, showed up for two-a-day workouts. Practice was held at Western Hills on the new football field. At the time the field was just a level place where the weeds had been mowed down. By the time school started the squad grew to fifty-one, and the Cougars prepared for their first season.

Many of the team had played in junior high school and some on the "B" team at Heights. Not one had played AAAA football before. The young team made a fine showing despite their 0 and 8 season record.

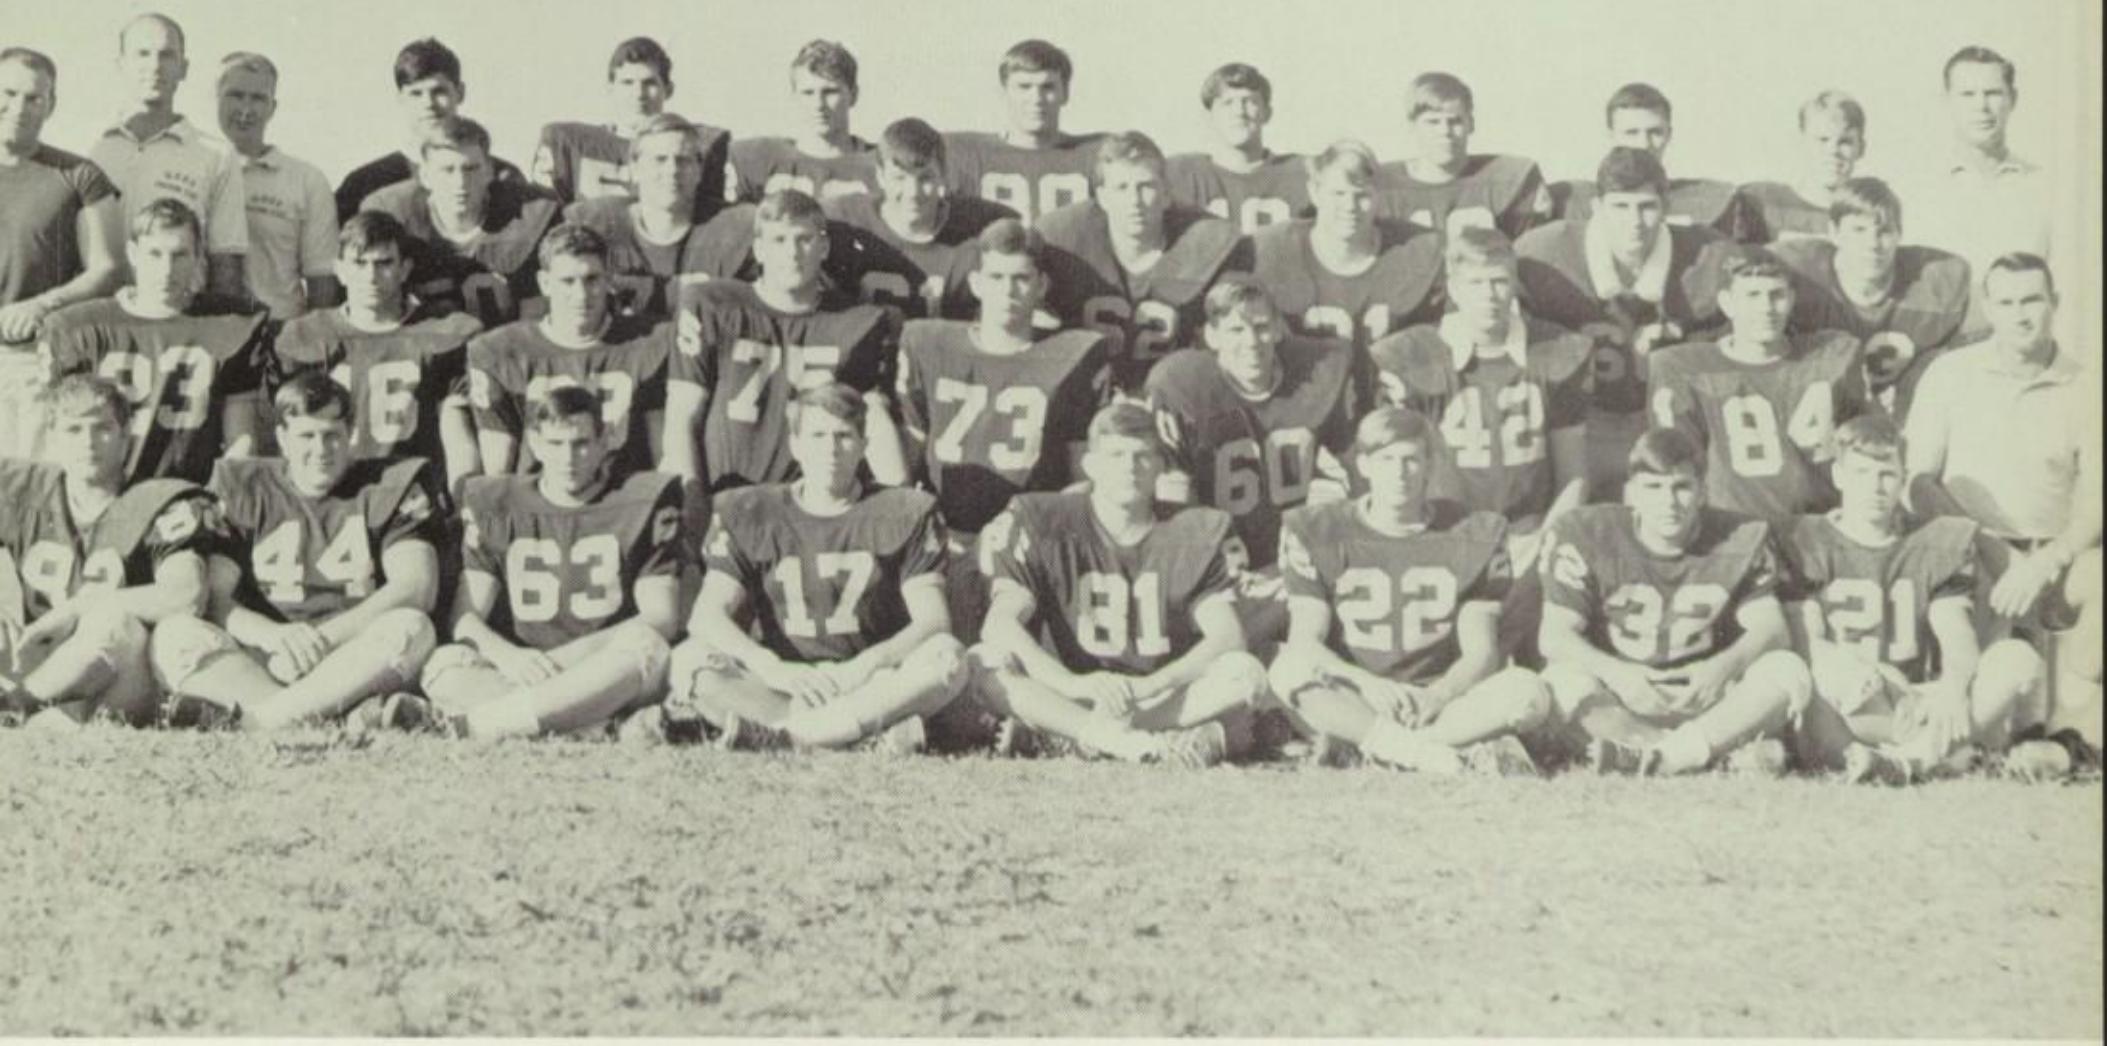

Mike Luttrell breaks away from a North Side tackler and pushes toward the goal. North Side won 28-14.

O. D. WYATT

The Cougars opened the season against O. D. Wyatt on a rainy Saturday, September 14. For most of the game it looked like Western Hills would win. Terry Drennan scored in the second quarter on a nine-yard run. In the third quarter, Wyatt scored on a two-yard run after a long pass play. Despite valiant effort, the Cougars lost 7-6.

POLY

A group of determined Cougars faced a winless Poly for their second game. Poly seemed to catch fire and scored in each of the first three quarters. A heartbreaking moment came for Western Hills when Louis Nettleton was stopped just short of the goal on a fourth and goal situation. Drennan completed 10 of 22 passes but the Cougars fell 18-0.

I. M. TERRELL

In what was probably the best game they played all season, Western Hills shocked I. M. Terrell by leading until the third quarter before losing 20-14. The Cougars scored on their first possession of the ball and again on a four-yard run by Terry Drennan.

GRAHAM

In their first out of town game the Cougars lost 42-8 to the highly-ranked Graham Steers. Playing their fourth game, Western Hills faced a team whose motto had been "State in '68." The Cougars fought all the way and Graham had to play an aerial game. Terry Drennan scored the Cougar's only touchdown and Carlton Hall caught the pass for the two point conversion.

The first district game for the Cougars was against Paschal on October 17. Paschal scored twice in the first half but the Cougars surprised them by making two touchdowns in the third quarter. Paschal recovered and scored again late in the fourth quarter. The kick was blocked by Pete Martin and the game ended 20-14.

NORTH SIDE

North Side and Western Hills were both looking for their first wins when they met at Farrington Field. Quarter-backed by Larry Holton the Cougars were slated to win the game but luck was not with them and North Side seemed to catch fire. With two touchdowns in the third quarter North Side won 28-14.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

Final game of the season was with Arlington Heights. Scoring twice in the second quarter and three times in the third the Jackets beat the Cougars 49-8. One of the happiest moments of the entire season for the Western Hills fans and players came when Mike Luttrell ran the final two yards of a 73-yard scoring drive that took 8:04. Joe Rodgers made the two point conversion.

"B" Team Brings Home First Victory

The "B" Team made winning a reality for the Cougars with a 2 and 8 season record. In their second game the Cougars defeated O. D. Wyatt 8-0. They later beat North Side 22-12. Quarterbacked by Tim Cox and Bill Tolson, the "B" Team played a ground game which was tough and exciting to watch. The game gave them a chance to make use of the running ability of Danny Burt, Mike Teague, and Earl Arendall. Playing under such adverse conditions as rain and sleet, on poor playing fields, and often ending the game in semi-darkness, the "B" Team made a fine showing for the athletic department and for the school.

Cagers Place Third in Second Half

Laboring under the handicaps of size and age in their first season, the Cougar cagers came on strong in the second half of the season and placed third in district AAAA-10. The team was 0-4 for the first half and 2-2 for the second half. Their record for the entire season was 9-14.

In tournament play before district competition, the Cougars participated in the Irving Tournament, the Oil Belt Tournament where they placed third, and the Brownwood Tournament where they won Division I. This win gave Western Hills its first sports trophy.

Considering the conditions under which Coach Moody's players began their season, it was a fine basketball season and the predominately sophomore team showed great future promise.

In district play, the Cougars lost to both Northside and Southwest by 1 point in their first game and beat both these teams in the second half. The team showed up well against Paschal and Arlington Heights.

Bob Bean, Sonny Cason, and Scott Wattier were all nominees for player of the week. Cason was on the second team of the All-District team. Bob Bean and Scott Wattier were given honorable mention for the All-District team.

With 3-14 Season

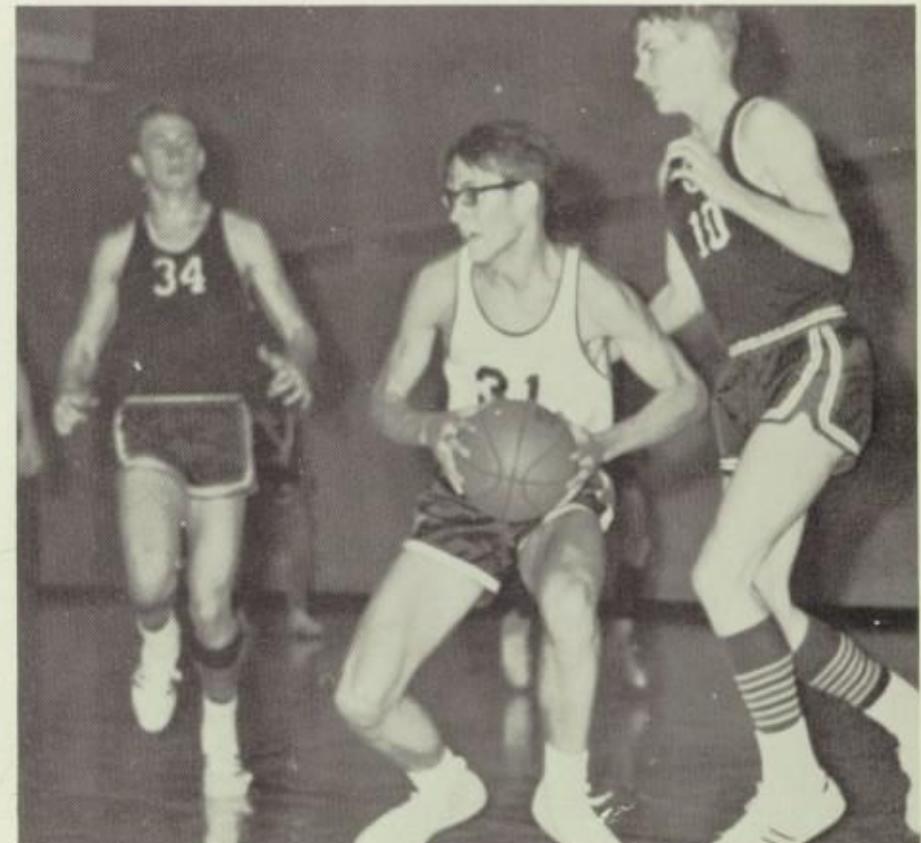

Always exciting to watch, Western Hills "B" basketballers under the coaching of Mr. Buddy Davis ended their season with a 3-14 record. Their first win was an exciting 40-39 game against Nolan High. The Cougars also beat Lake Worth 44-39, Northside 68-63 in district play. The "B" cagers also competed in the Cleburne Tournament.

Many of the "B" team also played on the varsity squad gaining maturity and experience for future Cougar teams. Since they were mostly Sophomores the boys indicated in their play that great things were to come for Western Hills basketball fans.

Duff Maddox gets a rebound in the Southwest game.

Cinder-Men Train for District Meet

Practice in track began this year at Brewer High since the Western Hills track was not completed. Under the direction of Coach Mike Richardson and assisted by Coach Danny Lee, twenty boys reported for practice. The team participated in out-of-town meets as well as several in the Fort Worth area and had two finalists in the Coaches' Association Indoor Track Meet. Early in the season, the 3 most outstanding achievements were Joe Rodgers' 1st place in the 300 yard intermediate hurdles at Graham, Texas, Marty Jensen's 2nd in the 880 yard run at Graham, and Terry Drennan's 1st in the high jump, also at Graham. Yet to come were the Cowtown Relays as well as the District Meet. The Cougars cinder-men appeared to be strongest in the hurdling and dash events.

Baseball Wins Six Straight

Coached by Mr. Ronnie McLain, the WHHS "A" Baseball Team began its first season with a six game winning streak in non-district games, the most outstanding being a 19-0 victory over Diamond Hill. Potentially the team sported one of the best pitching staffs in the 4A-10 district. These hurlers were Sonny Cason, Ed Ribinskas, Keith Scholl and Randy Sullivan.

With games being played at Trinity Field and Rockwood Parks, district play began on March 18th with an enthusiastic crowd of Cougars urging the team on to victory. Although unseasoned, the young Cougars displayed the necessary skill to make them future contenders for the district crown.

Girls' sports at Western Hills fall generally under the aegis of the girls' physical education classes. With Miss Will Ann Brewer coaching, the girls began their year playing volleyball and participated in an intramural competition with other Fort Worth high schools in November. Other sports which were taught and practiced were speedball, basketball, and tennis. In the spring the girls moved out of doors for a series of softball games.

Student Life

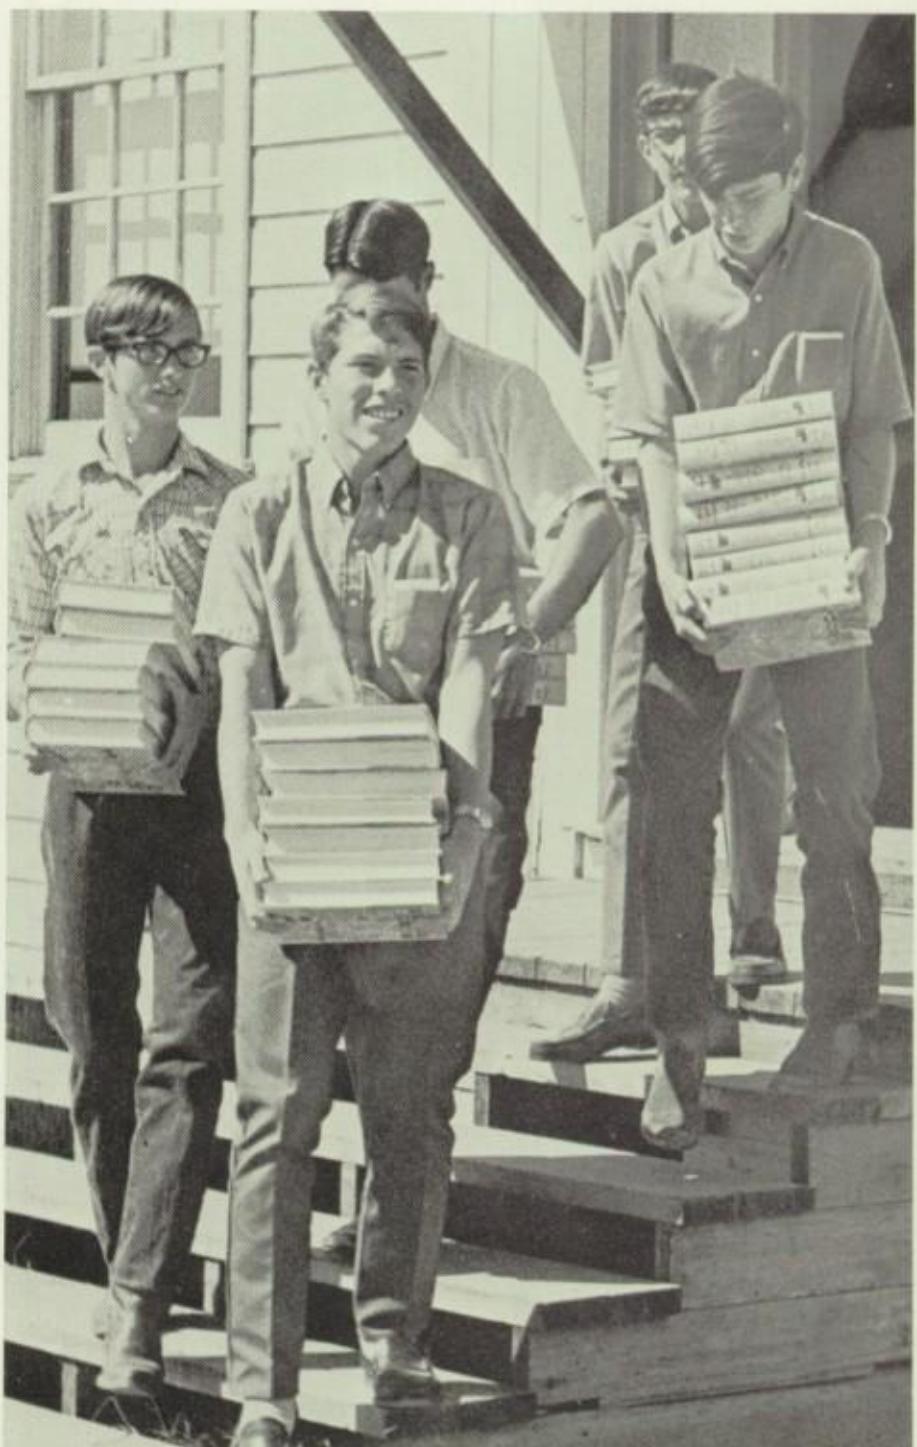

Chaos, Confusion

Students learn to ignore the presence of painters who are repainting the old annexes.

Keith Kinney, Mary Jane Eastman, Steve Owen, and Lindi Caple seem not to be bothered by having to walk from class to class in the rain.

Sophomores: Shawn Regan, Larry Holton, Brad Sewell, and Robert Cameron carry textbooks to be distributed to the students at the beginning of school.

Part of Cougar Life

Students surge en masse toward Arlington Heights auditorium to attend a huge pep rally.

Everyone gathers between the annexes before school to discuss the upcoming Jacket game.

Annual staffers Susie Reiser and Debra Baker register Sophomores for their Annual pictures.

Ricky Eubanks and Carole Mathers are crowned Spirit Day King and Queen by Cassel Dann and Eddie Borden.

Students congregate in the parking lot to decorate the buses before the trip to Graham, Texas.

Spirit-filled Cougar fans cheer on the football team.

John Burg, John Dean, and Jeff Carver gloat proudly after winning first place in the Spirit Day Homeroom Contest.

"Tiptoe through the tulips . . ." strums Requa Tolbert.

Spirit Reigns Supreme

The year 68-69 saw the conception of an extraordinarily spirited student body. W.H.H.S. was a living example that it can be good to be spirited in victory . . . but even better to be spirited in the face of defeat.

Three radio personalities from KXOL help Cougars celebrate at the Spirit Rally.

"Dennis McMahon has some spirit too!" exclaims Jill Williams to John Irons.

Decorating Committee Boosts Spirit

The Decoration Committee, which consisted of volunteers, devoted many hours of their free time to making posters with which to decorate the school during the football and basketball season. They are from left to right: Requa Tolbert, Carole Mathers, Judy Rust, Janice Watkins, Debbie Hamrick, Leta Peterson, Debra Baker, Marilyn Baker, and Cathy Thomas. Not Pictured are Sharon Dear, and La Donna Dear.

The girls gather after school at the fieldhouse to decorate for an upcoming football game.

Eddie Borden, Cassel Dann, and Pete Martin, who are dressed as Mr. and Mrs. Santa and Rudolph, caper playfully on their way to take candy and goodies to another class.

Marleen Whitehead decorates the Christmas tree in the school office.

Students Join in Yuletide Festivities

Mr. Glasgow's German class travels from room to room singing carols.

Mrs. Buhl's sixth period history class gathers around the Christmas tree to show off their holiday decorations.

A joyous Mr. Morrow and workers begin loading boxes for the move.

Carlton Hall and Bill Squyres help custodians put together student desks in preparation for the first day of school.

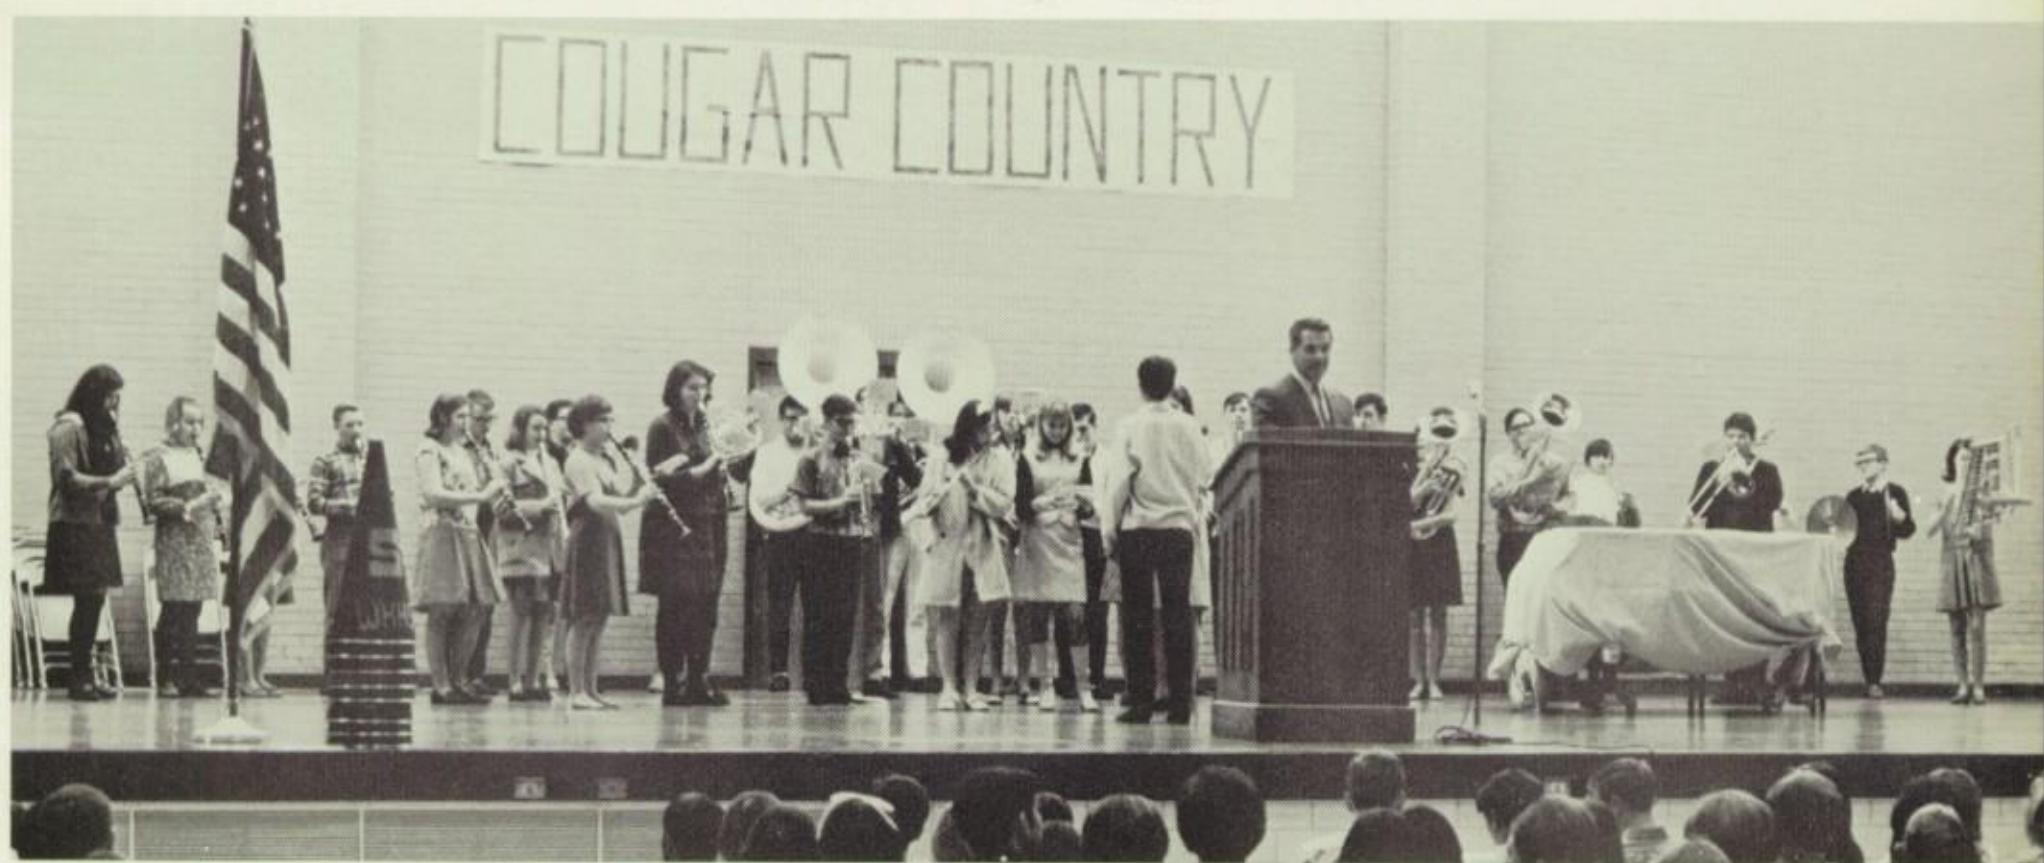

While the band watches, the flag goes up for the first time on the new campus.

Girls cluster on the front steps of the Cougars new home on the opening day.

Long Awaited Day Finally Arrives

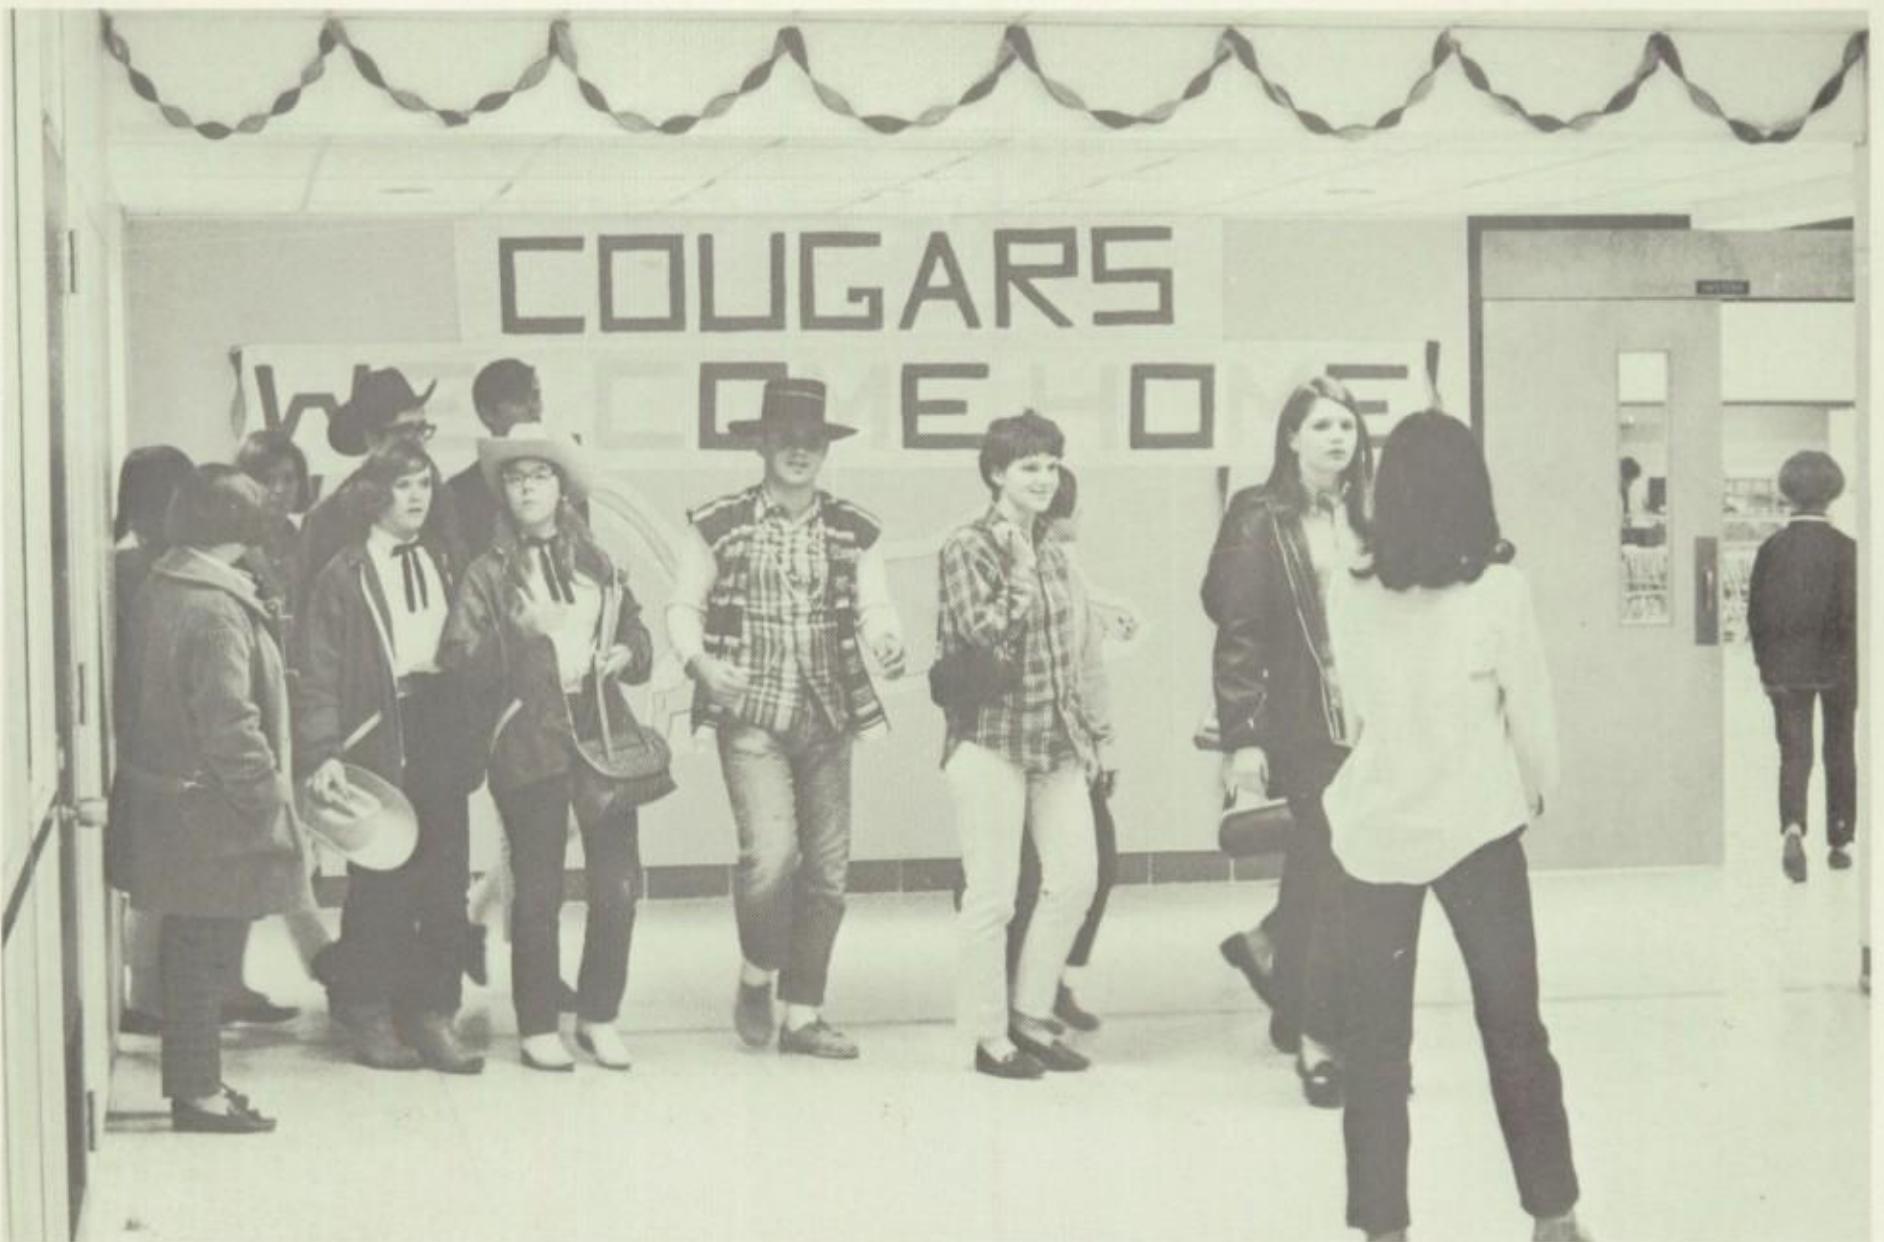

Mr. Morrow addresses the student body at the orientation assembly in the new auditorium.

Students inspect the modern library facilities which include a collection of records, tapes, and movies to be used in soundbooths.

Although everyone was furnished with maps of the building, still some, like Barbara Vest, managed to get themselves lost.

Everyone scatters into the hall beneath a banner welcoming the Cougars to their new home.

Old West Comes to New School

"Alright, now who's the guy who rustled my holster?" demands Mrs. Buhl threateningly.

"What are you hiding under your hat?" query Dana Stonebraker and Barbara Hankins of Marilyn McCoy.

Cougars Enjoy Varied Activities

On behalf of the school Mr. Morrow accepts one of the first athletic trophies won by the basketball team at the Howard Payne Tournament in Brownwood.

Early in the year, the "Bloomer Girls" overcome the "Tiger Lilies" in the perilous Power Puff football game.

Lorrie Gehringer becomes intensely involved in a Cougar basketball game.

Dennis McMahan typifies the true spirit of Western Hills as he climbs toward higher ideals.

"We'll never get these decorations up for the Valentines Dance unless you start using tape!" remarks Judy Rust to Jack Winton.

Skip Williams buys a pie from Beth Biela at the Cake Sale sponsored by the Athletic Association.

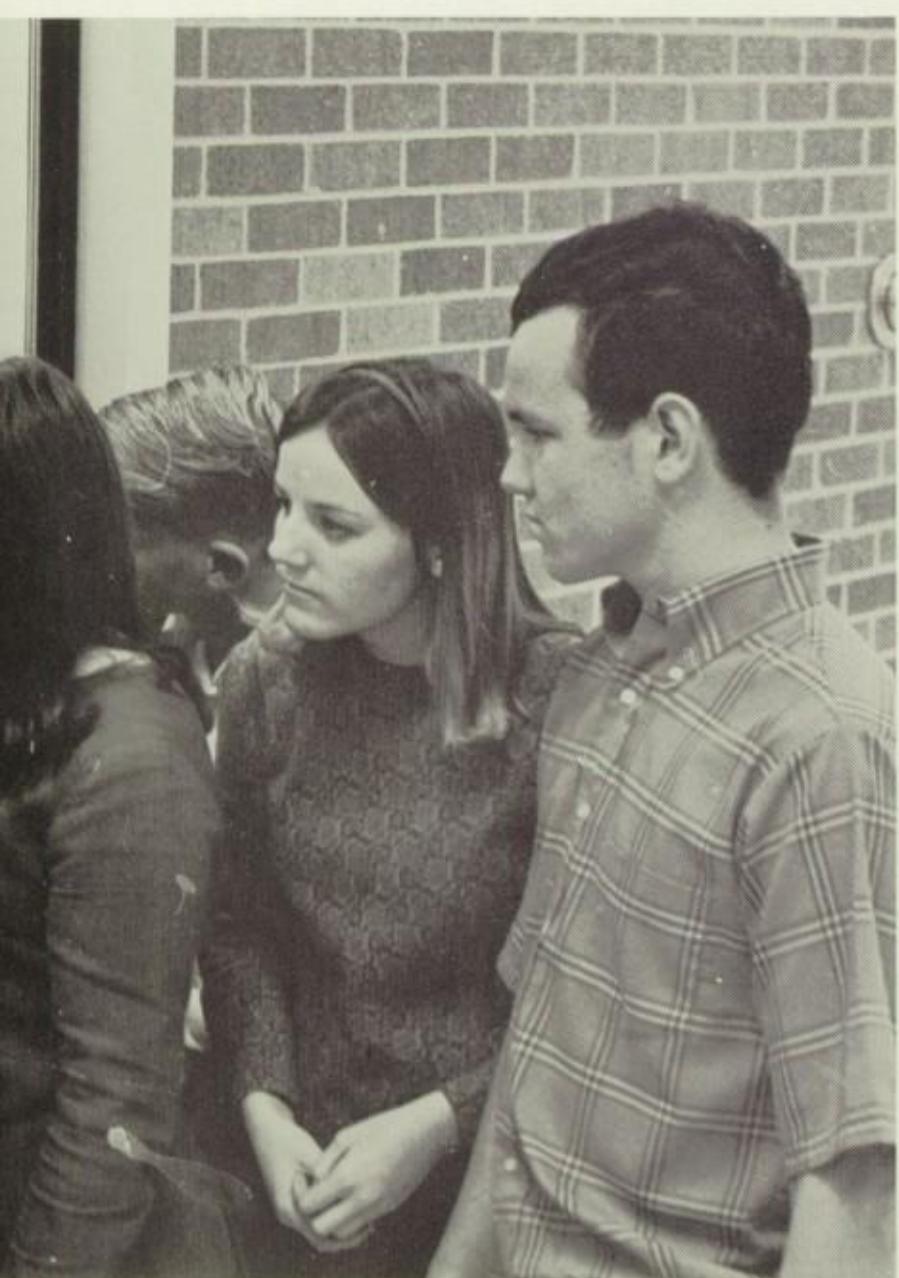

Students gather at the front of the auditorium to discuss rules for the magazine drive with the coaches.

Robert Wagner has his head measured for his senior cap.

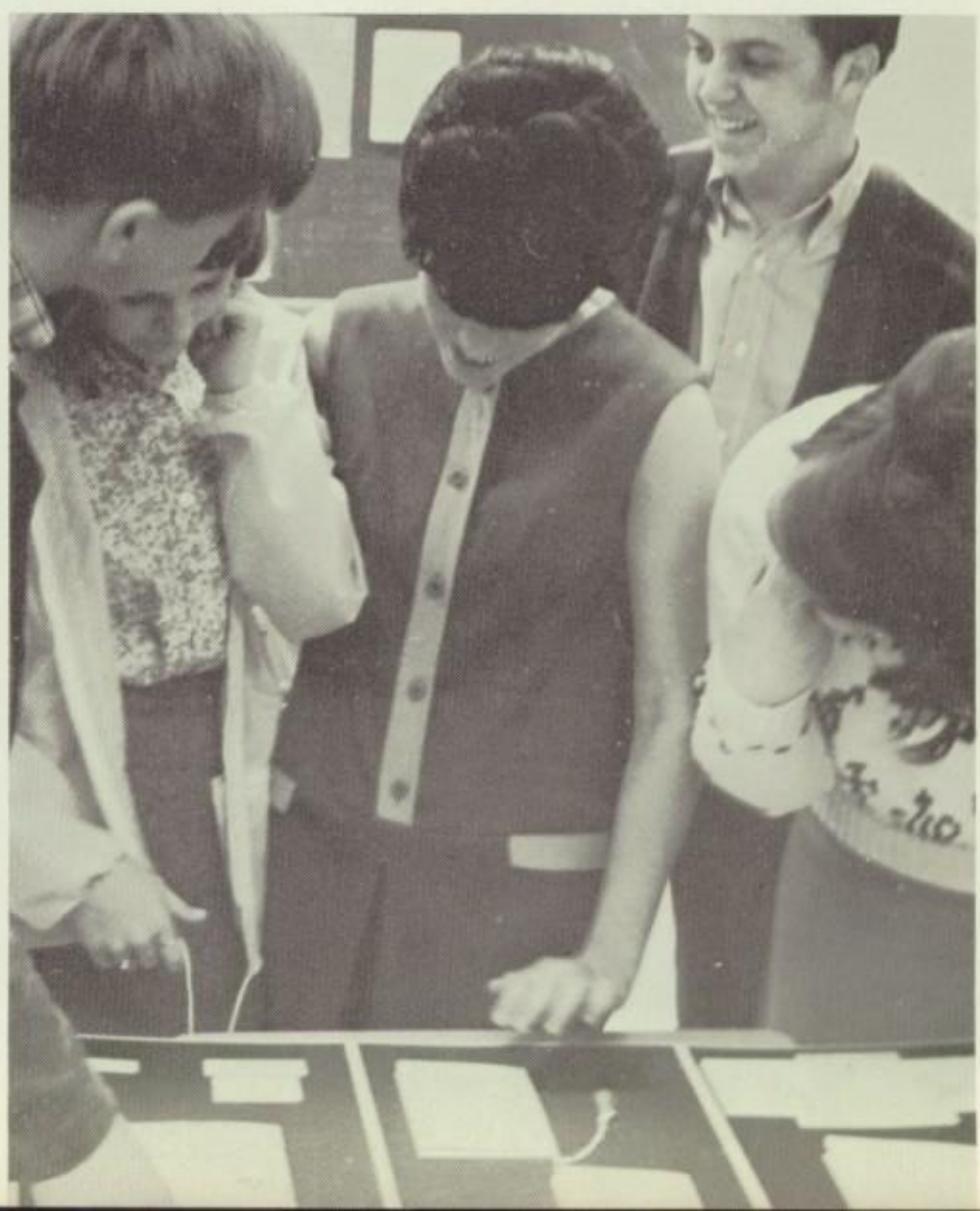

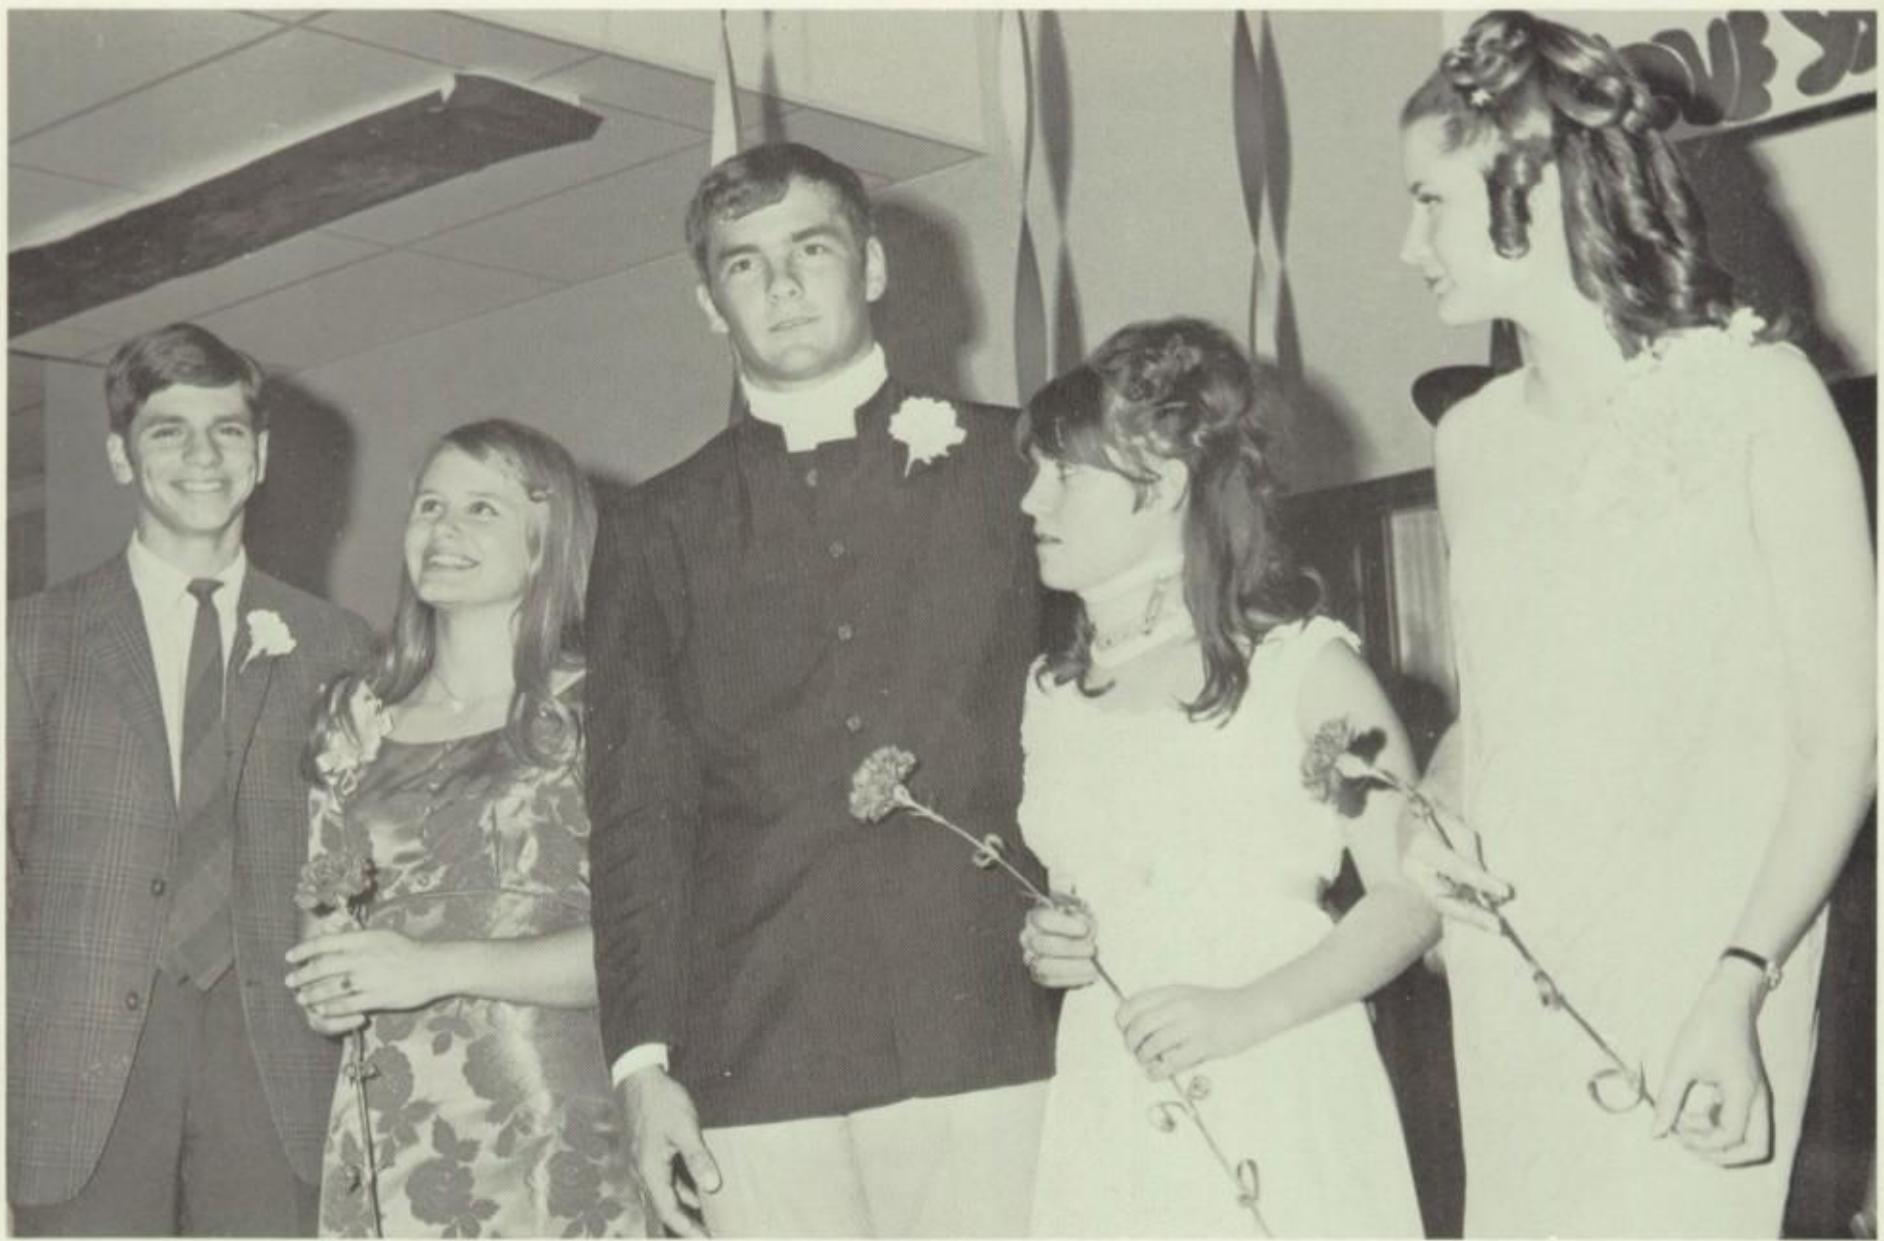

Shawnna Magill beams brilliantly and Chuck McQueary looks thoughtful as they inspect the prizes which were given to those who sold magazines.

Claudia Hardesty, Gail Ferguson, Jayne Young, and Billy Gammill consider the new senior rings displayed in the showcase.

Seniors gather to observe the sample invitations for their graduation exercises.

"Don't you dare take my picture!" screams Lynne McNeil to the photographer.

Coke Smith and Dixie Randall dance to the heavy beat of the Elysian Fields.

Class Favorites Presented at Valentine Dance

Lynda Oxley prepares to plant a kiss on Carlton Hall as she confers on him the title of Junior favorite.

"But Mother, you're not eligible to run for Class Favorite!" argues Lindi to Mrs. Caple, who was a chaperone at the dance.

New School Shown to Visitors

Parents gather in the front hall before a display case decorated by the homemaking department.

Provided with maps of the school, visitors travel from room to room meeting teachers and discussing curricula.

Bill Gammill and Joe Roehl provide extra entertainment for open house visitors.

The band, under Mr. Jones direction, performs for those at the Spaghetti Supper which was held before the Open House.

The Science Department holds an experimental demonstration to be viewed by visitors.

Parents confer with Mr. Ruggieri, vice principal, in the main school office.

The art room, with its display by talented students, was a center of interest.

Athletes Sponsor Faculty Game

Players watch in awe as three others grapple for possession of the ball.

Adorable cheerleaders, Roger Taylor and Jack Douglas, urge on the enthusiastic crowd.

The illustrious Mr. Jones and his Crazy Band take time out to watch the game.

Sportsmanship Committee Offers Judgment

Sportsmanship is an attitude of consideration and co-operation which both players of athletic games and students as spectators need to develop. To further this quality in Fort Worth High Schools, each school appoints a committee who attends all games and judges other schools. Western Hills Committee this year consisted of Debbie Hamrick, Carla Houx, Bruce Williams, and Trey Shannon, and was sponsored by Mrs. Tidwell.

Bruce Williams, Patti Wooten, and Sue Frantz discuss constitutional material.

Committee Formed to Plan Constitution

In February a Constitution Committee was formed to draw up plans for a Western Hills Student Council. Sponsoring the committee this year were Miss Carolyn Christopher and Mrs. Mary Barron. The plans concerned grade qualifications, attendance requirements, and other prerequisites for elective offices. There were no officers elected for this year, but in the spring the student body voted on the 1969-70 Student Council.

The Cougar Band Marches Into Competition

Under the capable leadership of Mr. Jerry Jones, the first W.H.H.S. band began the year by playing for pep rallies and games, and in October marching in the Benbrook Anniversary Parade for which they received their first trophy. They also marched in the Veteran's Day Parade, and the Stock Show Parade. The Cougar band negotiated the trip to Graham by bus and played at the football games during half-time. The beginning of 1969 marked the arrival of the W.H.H.S. marching band's new green and gold uniforms after the group had worn coverall uniforms for the previous four months. With diligent practice and perseverance, the musical organization set a precedent by being the first new band in the history of the Fort Worth Public Schools to march on field its premiere year.

Chorus Serenades Western Hills Classes

True to the pattern of the 68-69 school year, the Western Hills Chorus was organized early in the fall. Under the direction of Mr. Jerry Jones, they entertained the students at Christmas time by caroling from class to class, and in the spring they hoped to be able to present programs at local junior high schools. During the year they attended the TWC Choral Clinic which proved to be a profitable experience for all members.

COUGAR COUNTRY

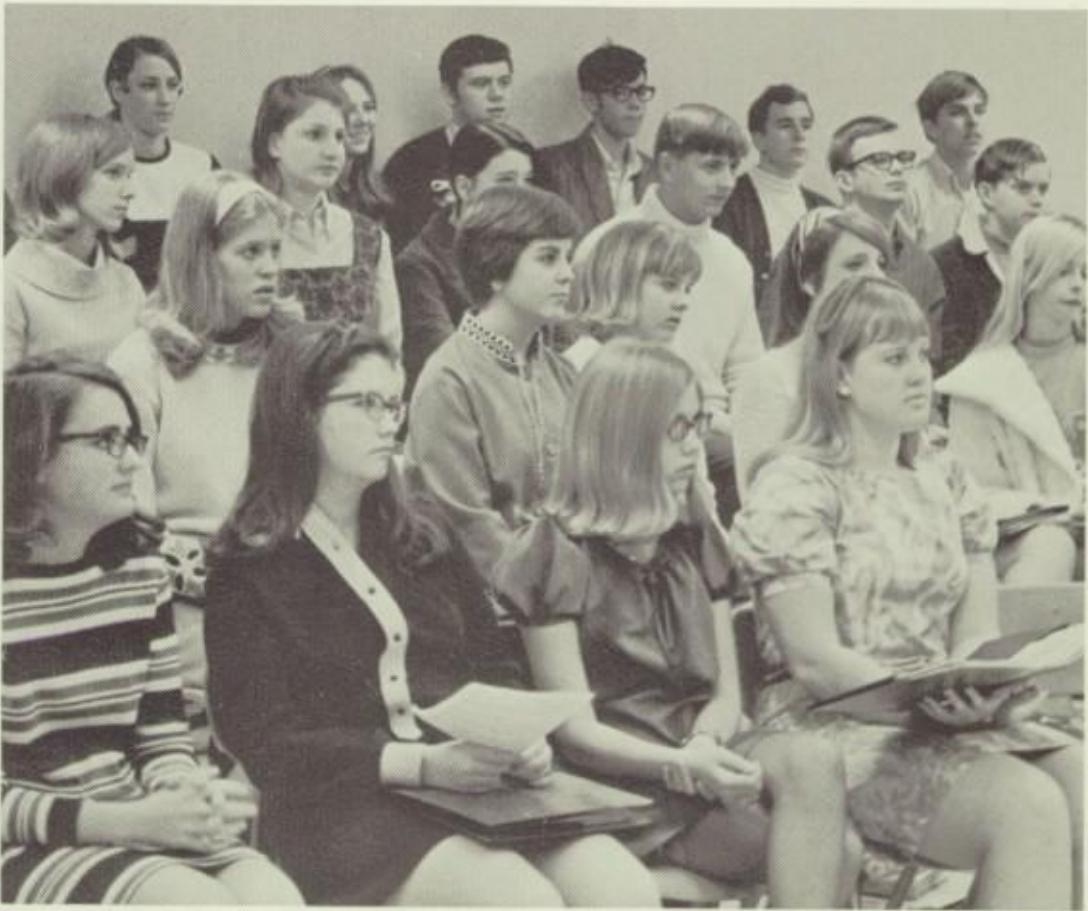

The Chorus for Western Hills High School during the year of 1968-69 is the following; first row: Mr. Jones, director, Anita Proffitt, Jill Williams, Cindy Pebworth, Lajuan Rassmussen, Cassel Dann, Grady Tatum, Roger Taylor, John Irons, Tom Carroll, Berry Byram, Marty Montgomery at Piano. Orchestra and Stage Band Provide Music for Activities and Programs

An interest in popular and contemporary music were prerequisites for the Cougar Stage Band. Composed of fifteen members from the regular band, these swingers met at their study hall period for practice. They performed at basketball games and the Band Parents Spaghetti Supper, planned a spring musical talent show, and played for two junior high schools.

The beginnings of an orchestra were also started with eight charter members. This group played this year in the All City Orchestra, the Enrichment Orchestra, and attended the State Fair. Mr. Jerry Jones directed both organizations.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Haley and Mrs. Whiteker, the W.H.H.S. Debate Club was organized with four members. This small group worked with the National Debate topic: "Resolved that the United States should establish a system of compulsory service for all citizens." The novice debaters were among 177 teams entered in the National Forensic League regional tournament at T.C.U. in January. Debating the affirmative case were teammates Wanda Wilson and Sue Frantz, while the negative was debated by Patti Wooten and Lon Burnam. In February, Wanda Wilson and Debbie Morse entered a city-wide contest at T.C.J.C. Although no awards were won this first year, much useful experience was gained.

Science Club Emphasizes Field Trips

Organized to allow interested students to participate in extra-curricular activities in various fields of science was the Western Hills Science Club. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Sharon Bullis and Mrs. Mary Shimp, the club met at irregular times after school during the year. Field trips, also attended by non-members of the club, were taken to American Cyanamid (a catalyst plant), the Waste Water Purification Plant, and to Terrell Laboratories. Mrs. Bullis held after-school sessions in which students could carry out experiments of their own choosing in the school labs.

Drama Club Presents "Kiss Me Quick, I'm Double Parked"

Organized early in the year at Heights, the Western Hills Drama Club revealed versatile thespians in several pep rally skits and in a one-act play, "Kiss Me Quick, I'm Double Parked." The group of 30 enthusiastic students was sponsored by Mrs. Margaret Haley until mid-term after which Mrs. Clarice Whiteker took over. The club planned to present a three act play for their spring project.

Mr. Ed Curry, Sponsor, and Kim Livingston, Editor, discuss the plans for the '69 CATAMOUNT.

1969 Catamount Initiates Traditions

Publications at Western Hills took the form of the '69 CATAMOUNT under the sponsorship of Mr. Ed Curry. After school, beginning in September, a staff of 17 was selected with Kim Livingston as editor. There were several weeks of intensive planning, collecting materials, assembling equipment, and making decisions which would be part of Western Hills future traditions. Annual sales began in October and over 600 students subscribed to the first book. Underclassmen pictures were taken and distributed. Staff photographers covered all WHHS happenings and by mid-semester the group was moving at full steam. The January, February, and March deadlines were met and in May the staff awaited expectantly the student reception of their first yearbook.

Chess Club Demonstrates Skill

Checkmate! Every other Tuesday after school, members of the W.H.H.S. Chess Club were involved in the concentration of this stimulating and challenging game. Under the supervision of Mrs. Ruth C. Amend, the club met for seventy-five minutes at each meeting, and used a play-off plan for determining the top players. Next year other schools will be challenged to tournament play.

Second Row: Normalee Randolph, Cheryl Meyerson, Mark Broussard, Leta Raught, Debbie Morse, Beth Biela, Collette Starkey. Standing: Sharon Sliva, Mrs. Herring, sponsor; and Robert Slocum.

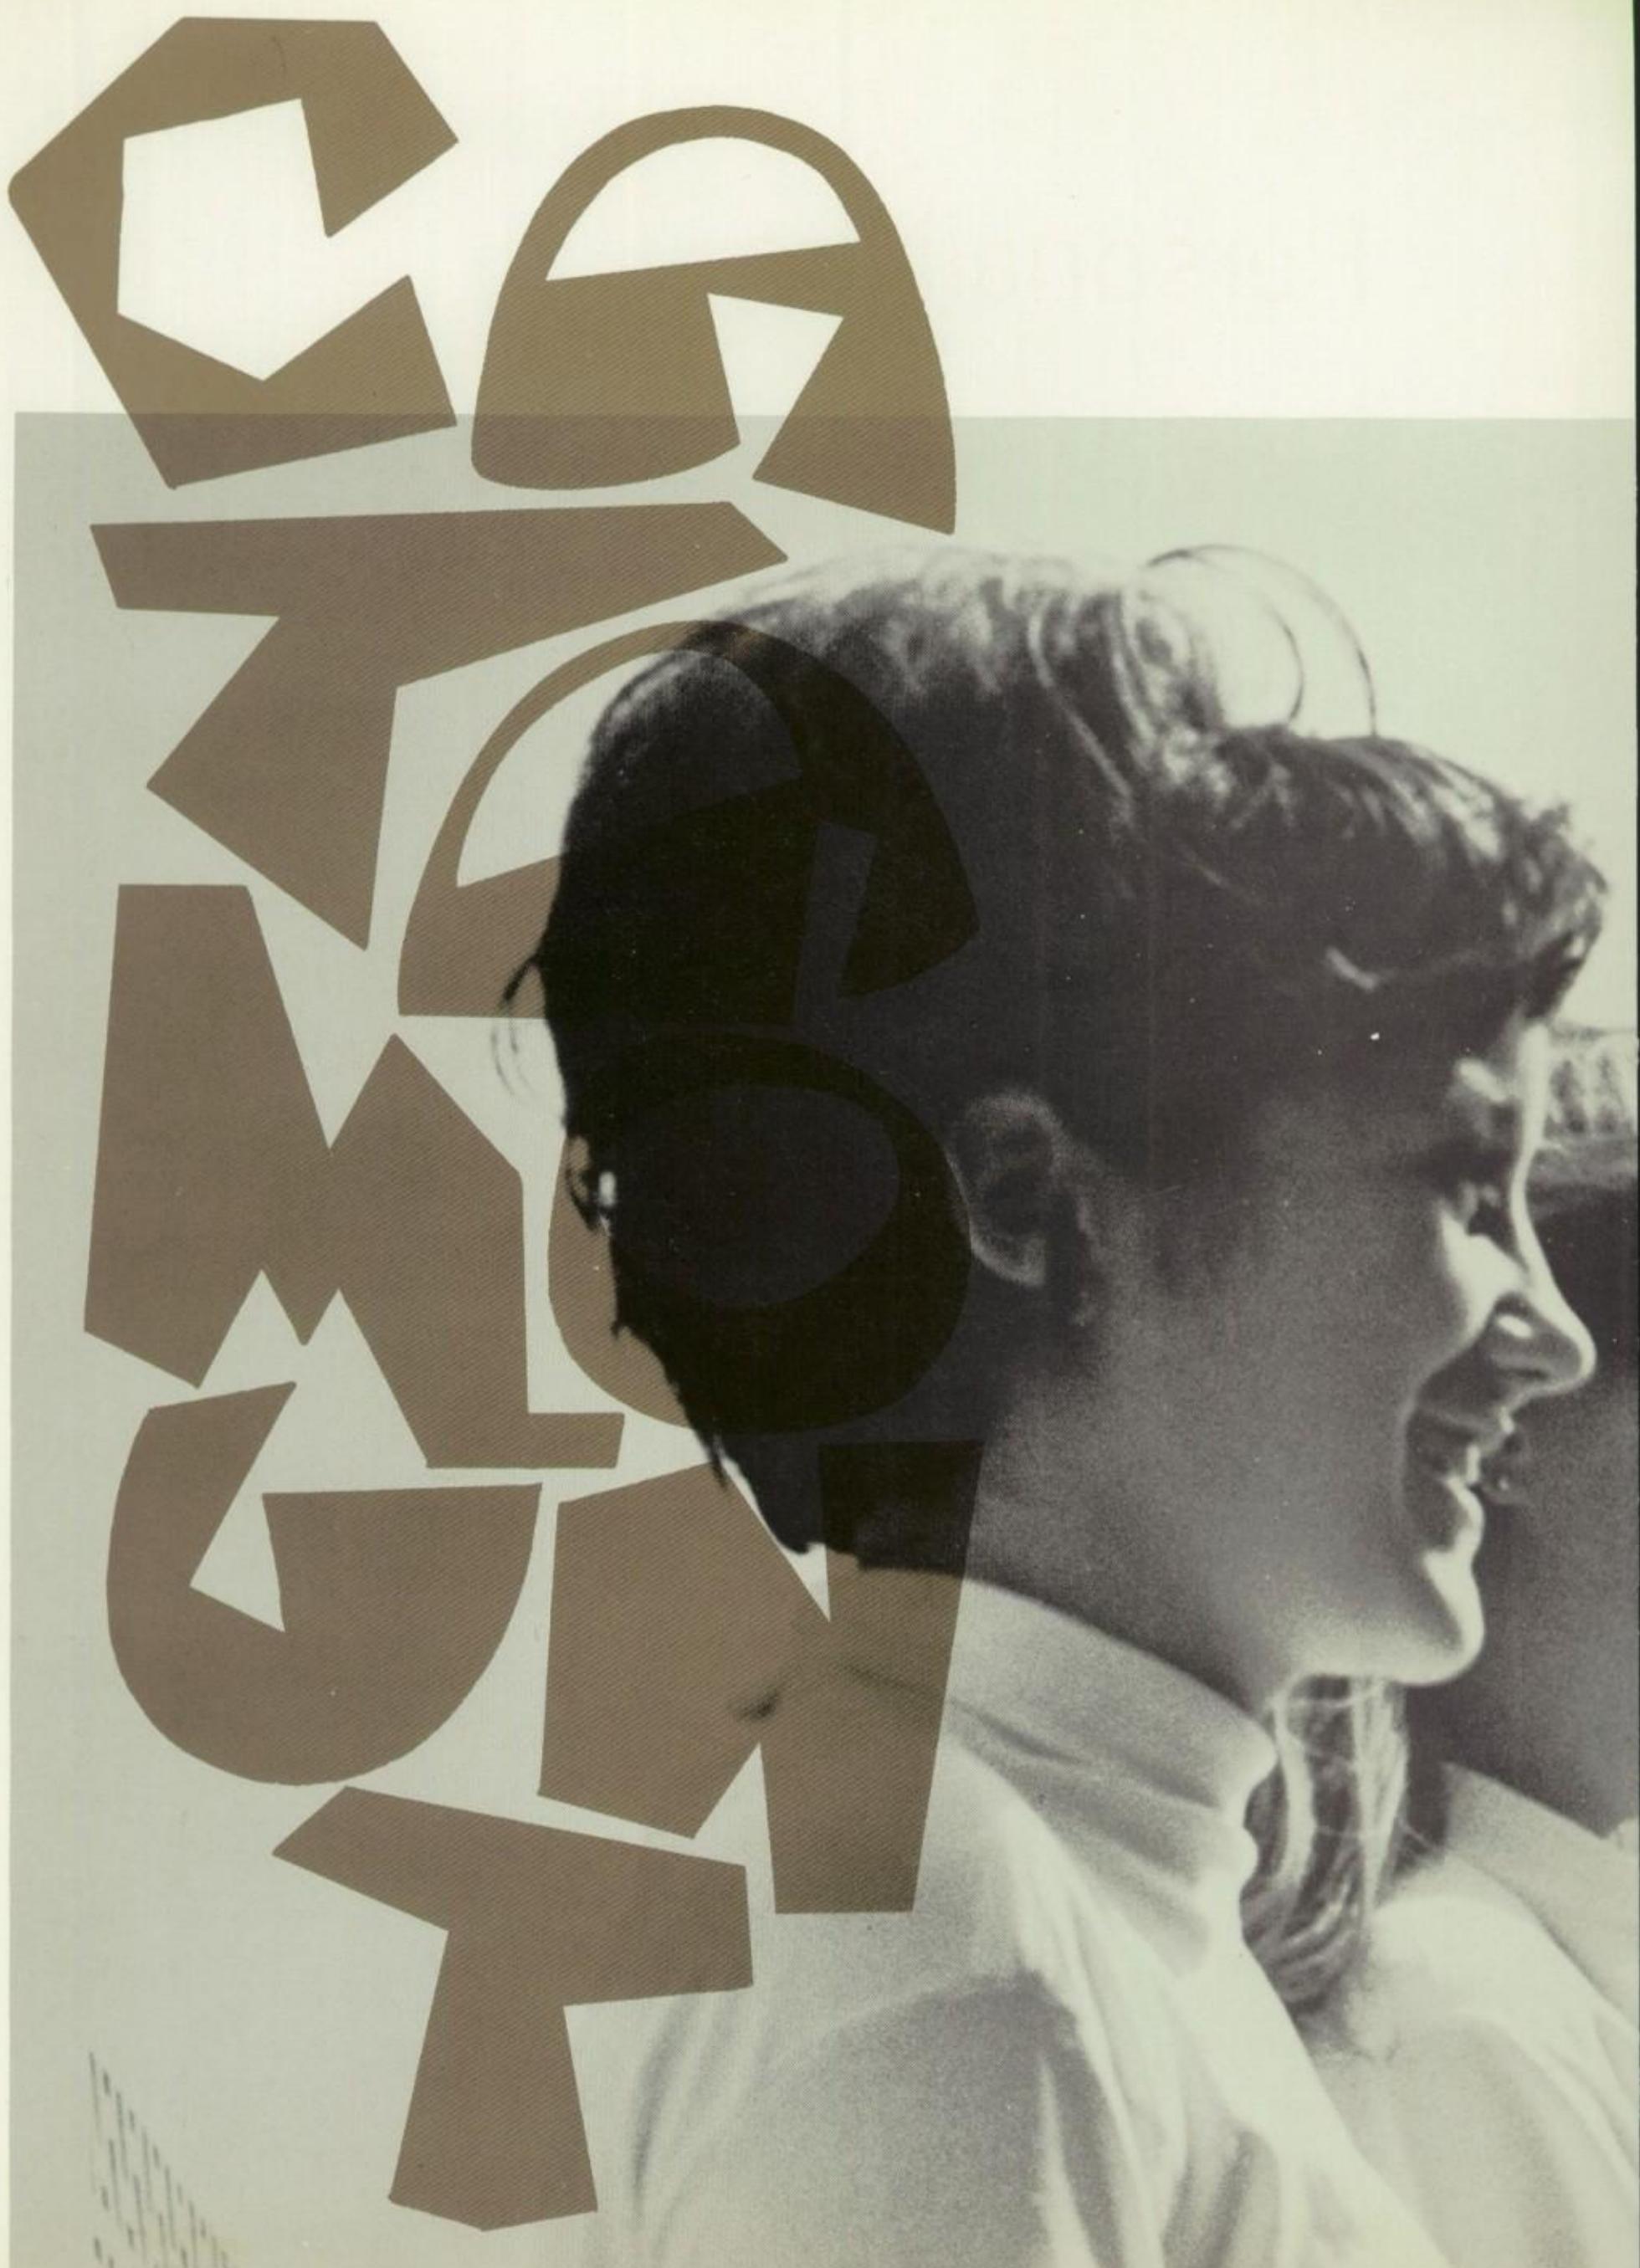

Library Club Tackles Difficult Job

Western Hills students who became library assistants to Mrs. Peggie Herring also belonged to the Cougar's Library Club. Organized to increase interest and provide new books and decorations for our "Resource Center," the club arranged two bake sales to provide funds for its projects. The thirteen members met once a week after school during the spring semester.

Yea Green! Yea Gold! Yea Cougars!

Chosen to arouse Cougar spirit and urge our Athletes on to victory were Western Hills '69 Cheerleaders. Two students, elected during the second week of school, were chosen by the student body to represent each grade division. The requirements to run for cheerleader were no grade below C and an E average in citizenship for the previous year's grades. They participated actively at football and basketball games, and they led all pep rallies. With little time to practice and prepare yells, this enthusiastic group polished their technique and proved to be worthy first year cheerleaders. Mrs. Mary Shimp and Mrs. Sharon Bullis sponsored these pepsters.
